Will Sign When Time 'Is Ripe'

Free City Still Goal of Premier

PARIS (AP)—Denouncing President Eisenhower, Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Western powers will lose their right to maintain troops in Berlin when the Soviet Union signs a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He added this treaty will be signed "when we consider the time ripe."

Khrushchev spoke to a news conference following the end of the summit conference — broken up over Khrushchev's demand that Eisenhower apologize for the U2 flight into Russia and punish those responsible.

The Soviet Premier in announcing his intention to sign a peace treaty with East Germany, said he simply planned to do with East Germany what the United States did with Japan.

"We fought in the war against Japan," he said. "The United States signed a treaty with Japan but we didn't."

The Soviet Union had the opportunity to share in the treaty with Japan but turned it down.

He said he still wants West Berlin made a "free city" by agreement with the Western allies but that the problem must be solved.

The spy flight affair, he went on, convinces the Soviet government that 'this problem must be solved and we are approaching the matter with greater resolve and urgency."

He then said the Soviet peace treaty with the East German Communist government would "deprive the Western powers of their occupation rights in West Berlin."

But he added: "When we do that is our affair. When we consider the time to be ripe we will take a fountain pen out of our pockets and sit down and sign drafts already prepared and then announce it to the world."

No Early Agreement

Speculation that the Soviet Premier would sign a peace pact with the German satellite regime during his visit was labeled "ridiculous" by Horst Sinderman, East German propaganda chief.

Observers here believe Khrushchev, after conferring with East German Communist party chief Walter Grotewohl, will address a mass rally and reiterate his old line that the Allied occupation of West Berlin must end.

But they think it quite likely that he also will sound the call for all nations which fought Nazi Germany to meet on a certain date to work out a peace treaty for both West and East Germany. The Western Allies would certainly reject this, and Khrushchev then would hold an all-Communist

Dr. Rugg, Writer, Dead, Resided in Bearsville Sector

BEARSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Harold O. Rugg, professor emeritus at Columbia University whose career was marked by national controversy, died Tuesday at his Ulster County home here. He was 74.

Rugg retired in 1951. His books on history and social science were widely sold as texts 20 years ago and drew criticism from such groups as the American Legion, the National Assn. of Manufacturers, a number of clergymen and local school boards.

In 1941 his books were banned from a number of towns and cities on grounds they were un-American or subversive. Similar claims six years before had been investigated in Washington and found false.

Rugg joined Columbia University's Teachers College faculty in 1920. After his retirement he was a Fulbright lecturer in Egypt in 1952-53. In 1950 he founded the New World Education Series and served as its editor.

Surviving are his wife, the former Elizabeth May Howe; a son Harold, and two step-daughters, Mrs. John Miller of Wellesley, Mass., and Mrs. Norman Alling of West Lafayette, Ind.

Most Faults Are Eliminated From Radio, Vols Hear

The "bugs" in the two-way radio system which have caused fire sirens to mysteriously sound in various parts of the county have been practically eliminated, Winfred Snyder, Ulster County Fire Co-ordinator, told the members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association Tuesday at its May meeting in New Paltz.

Similarity of the "frequency" in Suffolk County with Ulster County caused some local sirens to sound when a fire alarm was sent in from Suffolk County. This has been checked by the Motorola representatives and Snyder said it was believed the difficulty was under control.

Meeting Tuesday evening at the New Paltz Central School auditorium as guests of the New Paltz Fire Department, there were 45 companies on roll call with approximately 135 members in attendance. One new member, Myron Lane of Port Ewen, was received into the Association.

President George Majestic of Gardiner opened the meeting, turned it over to Allen Beatty, president of the New Paltz Fire Department, who presented guests.

West Europe Asks Allied Firmness to Meet New Dangers

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe, angered and disappointed by the summit conference collapse resounded today with new calls for Allied firmness and unity to face looming cold war dangers.

Not since the Hungarian revolt of 1956 had Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev drawn such bitter criticism. Blame for the breakdown of the Big Four meeting was planted squarely on the Kremlin doorstep.

Resumption of bitter cold war diplomacy was taken almost for granted, but there apparently was little fear at this stage that a shooting war was imminent.

In the Soviet Union, the Communist propaganda machine moved into top gear in support of Khrushchev's tough line with the West. Press and radio poured out thousands of words denouncing President Eisenhower for his refusing to condemn U.S. reconnaissance flights over the U.S.S.R. and to punish those responsible for them.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda reported that in Moscow alone 5,640 meetings attended by 1,250,000 people were held in factories, schools and offices to protest America's "aggressive behavior."

Huge banner headlines reflected Western Europe's dismay — and also its determination not to yield to Soviet threats.

"Summit full-stop," cried Britain's Daily Express. "Killed, ravaged and torn to pieces by Nikita Khrushchev."

Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns told his Parliament: "I have full confidence that the West will be firm in the face of Khrushchev's new threatening attitude. United, we should have no fear for the future."

There were similar appeals for close Western unity in most of the free capitals.

Many observers were still trying to probe what was behind Khrushchev's uncompromising, almost Stalinist, new policy.

"The most likely explanation is that Khrushchev's power in Russia is waning steadily," suggested the London Daily Express.

Nearly everywhere it was assumed the Soviet leader was under heavy pressure from home.

Eisenhower, after widespread criticism for the handling of the spy plane incident, came out of the Paris debacle with enhanced prestige. Britain's Daily Mirror summed up a sheaf of European tribute thus: "Ike has behaved with such splendid dignity."

Petition Against Higher Meter Fee Being Circulated

A petition placed in circulation among business men Tuesday opposing an authorized change in parking meter rates, is meant for signatures of merchants only on a citywide basis, and has no organizational sponsorship, it was learned today.

Said to have originated after complaints from customers in local stores, it has not been given official backing to date, by downtown, central or uptown merchants organizations, Evan J. Davis, president of the Uptown Business Men's Association, said today.

Common Council action May 3 approved changing the meters to collect five cents each half hour instead of the full hour in the more congested areas of the city, and elsewhere still five cents an hour, but permitting two hours of parking for two insertions.

A meter expert was in the city Tuesday to assist in deciding which meters were suitable to a change of mechanism and which are to be replaced.

City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl estimates that the change could bring the city some $40,000 in additional revenue this year and possibly more later. The meters, as originally installed, for the past few years have brought annual totals of $40,000 to $50,000.

Circulation of the petition began uptown and is due to reach other areas later in the week.

Nikita Challenges Ike's Assurance on Spy Trips; Premier Booed in Paris

'Bravo' Is Word for President

Soviet Boss Glum In Parting Calls

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was booed in the streets today as he rode about on farewell calls after blocking all Western efforts to revive the summit conference.

President Eisenhower, the Soviet Premier's target, drew shouts of "bravo" on a surprise visit to Notre Dame, the cathedral church of Paris.

Leaders Depart Thursday

Eisenhower, Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are all due to leave Thursday for their capitals.

Bags were packed in an atmosphere of bitterness and disgust, with Western experts expecting a new series of cold war blasts from Khrushchev before he finally heads out.

President Eisenhower will fly to Lisbon, Portugal, for an overnight visit—advancing a trip he originally planned to make next Monday. He expects to return to Washington Friday.

A special meeting of the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Council was called for Thursday to hear a report from the Western

Federal Probe Is Expected Here Soon on Gambling

The federal investigation of illegal gambling which reportedly takes some $250 million annually in upstate New York is expected to reach into Ulster County as the probe expands.

Federal Judge James T. Foley told a federal grand jury of 16 men and five women in Albany Tuesday that it must "root out lawlessness and gambling with vigor and dispatch" and that it is within their right to call in for testimony "anyone you wish to hear."

U. S. Attorney Theodore F. Bowes reported that he would begin calling witnesses in about 10 days. Such a list has been prepared but is being withheld.

Bowes also has a list of convicted gamblers who have not purchased a $50 federal gambling tax stamp.

The jury is expected to probe activities of convicted gamblers, inquiring into the possibilites that federal law has been violated. It will also investigate possible income tax evasion.

MOSCOW VIEW OF THE SUMMIT — This cartoon, entitled "Dismissed," appeared in Moscow's government newspaper Izvestia, along with a story charging American "aggressors" torpedoed the summit talks. A figure portrayed as Secretary of State Herter chisels "Statue of Free Espionage" on statue's base as Justice, labeled "Unwilling Stranger," is ordered away. Heavily-armed figure atop pedestal carries smoking torch and crown, a travesty on the Statue of Liberty, and holds tablets of Biblical Ten Commandments tradition inscribed "Espionage, Diversion, Provocation, etc." Dollar mark on shoe sole tramples volume titled "International Law." Successor Not Bound He Claims

Threat Renewed At Planes, Bases

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today challenged President Eisenhower's assurance that U.S. spy plane flights over Soviet territory will not be resumed, saying the pledge applies only to Eisenhower's remaining months in office.

Khrushchev told a jam-packed news conference:

May Become Invalid

"It is impossible to negotiate with the United States . . . if agreements made by one person become invalid when he is no longer in office."

Khrushchev quoted the President as saying in the Big Four meeting Monday — the meeting that blew up the summit conference—that his guarantee of no more spy flights applied only during his term.

He said the President declared "I do not know what my successor will decide."

1,500 Newsmen Gather

The Communist chieftain drove into the Palais de Chaillot grounds in an open car, his hat off, a tight smile on his face. Booed on two earlier occasions today, he was cheered by a crowd at the entrance of the driveway.

About 1,500 newsmen packed the hall in the Palais de Chaillot where he appeared on a dais under the glare of floodlights.

Khrushchev had demanded an Eisenhower apology and assurance of punishment for those responsible for the spy flights. Eisenhower refused and the Soviet leader broke off the summit conference.

"The Soviet people would not understand," he declared, "if we satisfied ourselves with the subterfuge of the American President and with the suspension of the flights only until January 1961.

Time Limit Uncertain

"International relations cannot be built on the length of time a man is in office. . . Let us admit that perhaps an accord on disarmament could be signed. What would happen when he went out of office?"

Khrushchev renewed his threat to shoot down any espionage aircraft over Soviet territory and to demolish the bases they came from.

"No provocative act will intim-

Congressmen Urge Alerted Force, Hot War Seen Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—A call to alert the nation's defenses underlined the sober reaction in Congress today to the collapse of the summit conference.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, cautioned that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "erratic actions might precipitate the horror of a nuclear war."

Ask Calm Reappraisal

Others, without minimizing the potential seriousness of the situation, spoke not of war but of the need for a calm reappraisal in the light of developments.

"It is not the end of the world," commented Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Urging calmness among the peoples on both sides, he said "there must be a cooling off period and a fresh start toward easing of international tensions."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), like Humphrey a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said this country "must let the world know we will keep on trying to reach some agreements on disarmament and other problems in an effort to find peace."

But there was general agreement that the failure in Paris at least will increase cold war tensions.

Johnson Sees Big Test

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the Senate majority leader, made it clear that the country will stand behind President Eisenhower in the new crisis.

"We are going to have to dig in

Two Teachers Are Retiring After 77 Years of Service

With a record of 77 teaching years between them, two Rondout Valley Central School teachers, who are retiring in June, were honored Tuesday night at a teachers' recognition dinner arranged by the Board of Education in the Marbletown School cafeteria.

The retiring teachers are Mrs. Ruth Roosa, fourth grade teacher in the Marbletown School, who will complete 45 years of teaching in June, and Mrs. Jennie DePuy, head teacher of the Accord school.

Ike Warmonger, Peiping Charges

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China, believed to have played a behind-the-scenes part in wrecking the summit conference, today called President Eisenhower a warmonger.

Radio Peiping also said Vice President Richard M. Nixon used "the language of an aggressor" in defending U.S. espionage flights over the Soviet Union.

Nationalist China anxiously reported the Chinese Reds are moving a steady supply of war material to mainland areas close to the Nationalist-held off-shore islands.

Official sources said Communist jet fighters and bombers have been moved to within easy range of Formosa, President Chiang Kai-sheks stronghold.

Dietz Land Transfer Vote Could Be June 7, May Lack Needed 10

Adoption June 7 of a local law, given first reading at the May 3 Common Council meeting, could be the green light for authorizing use of 3.5 acres of Dietz Stadium land as a junior high school site, it was noted today, but sentiment among aldermen again appears due for a test.

A favorable report is expected from a special Common Council committee, which met last night with the education board's building committee, but a vote of 10 aldermen is required for transfer of the tract from the city to the consolidated school district.

A vote could follow two more readings at the June session of the measure which deals with fixture of boundaries and transfer of the land. If the law is adopted, other details pertinent to change of title, left with Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly and Attorney Andrew J. Cook Jr., counsel to the education board, can be completed.

To Decide on Price

Counsel is also expected to confer as to the sum to be paid the city. No decision as to the amount was announced after last night's meeting. City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan in a report read at the May 3 council meeting fixed the sum at $19,524.22, and City Assessor James D. Devine, felt that because of considerations, it should be $14,000.

A report of state action favoring a home rule measure required to grant local permission for transfer of the site, which is considered park land, had been received prior to the meeting.

Alderman Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, who had campaigned in the council for fire-protection sprinkler systems in all schools, gained assurance that the education board definitely plans to have them in the proposed new school, and hopes to achieve similar protection in all schools.

Two Definitely Opposed

A March 1 council vote of 9-3, with an alderman absent, favored transfer of the land, and a home rule measure was approved March 15 by a vote of 11-2. Alderman Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sixth Ward, was opposed March 1, but went along with the majority for the home rule measure.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, and William G. Davis (D-L) 13th Ward, have consistently opposed use of the site for a school. Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, who has voted for the required earlier legislation, recently reported that he is testing sentiment in his ward by requesting a post card poll. To date, he said, he has received a letter opposing and some phone calls.

No Real Assurance

Woerner has not indicated a definite change of sentiment yet, neither have other aldermen in the council, but previous changes in the vote, leaves no assurance, as of this, of the outcome.

Members of both the council and education board committees had generally agreed on the transfer, it was reported after last night's meeting. The council committee, with James K. Ryan (D) 10th Ward, majority leader, as chairman is composed of alderman John P. Heitzman (D) 12th Ward; Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward; Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward, minority leader and Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward. Council President Harold L. Kaye attended in an advisory capacity.

On the education board's building committee are George W. Schneider, chairman; David Kline and Benson A. Krom.

Future Farmers Are Told Many Opportunities Ahead

John H. Stone of Watertown, assistant commissioner of Agriculture and Markets told members of the Kingston Chapter, Future Farmers of America, last evening that "while today only three per cent of our population in New York State is working in the business of agricultural production, a substantial number are employed in businesses closely related to the farming business." They are very dependent upon what happens in farm production, Commissioner Stone said.

Addressing the members of the Kingston Chapter, FF of A at their annual banquet at SRS Home, Cottekill, he outlined the opportunities which lie ahead for the young men who are now taking the "AG" course at Kingston high school.

Many of those taking the course under the direction of Raphael Klein, who heads the KHS Agriculture Department, may become actual "tillers of the soil," but others will find opportunity in allied fields. Commissioner Stone called attention to the marketing payroll which now amounts to $1 million a year in New York State. Today in excess of 10-million people are employed in the processing and distribution of agricultural commodities in the United States.

Total agricultural production is a $1-billion business, Stone told the youths. "This tremendous output has resulted in num-

Various Incidents Mark 6th Anniversary Of Supreme Court Desegregation Rule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A march by more than 2,000 Negro students on the heavily guarded Georgia Capitol in Atlanta commemorated the sixth anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court desegregation decision.

The paraders were diverted from their objective by Atlanta's police chief and held an anti-segregation rally in a church instead.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., widely known Negro integration leader, said the students were "an inspiration to people all over the world who are struggling for freedom and dignity."

The marching footsteps in Atlanta echoed symbolically in other parts of the nation. Students paraded on historic Boston Common and through the main streets of Ann Arbor, Mich.

There was picketing in Chicago, an unsuccessful integration attempt at Montgomery, Ala., sit-downs in Memphis, Tenn., a rally in New York, and government action in the controversy over Negroes swimming at Biloxi, Miss.

Atlanta students parading two-by-two were stopped by Police Chief Herbert Jekins.

He ordered them to bypass the Capitol where more than 100 state troopers armed with billy clubs and pistols were on guard. The Negroes complied quietly.

In New England, 1,000 students from colleges and universities in the Boston area marched on Boston Common to commemorate the Supreme Court ruling. Students also paraded at Springfield, Mass.

University of Michigan students, about 100 strong, staged a march through Ann Arbor's main streets celebrating the anniversary. The day was proclaimed Freedom Day by Mayor Cecil O. Creal and the students were given a motor-

Hanover Critical of Chamber For Blocking Safety Gains

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Harold C. Hanover, the state's top union leader, charges the State Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries of New York State with blocking efforts to tighten industrial-safety laws.

Hanover immediately was accused of propagandizing by an executive of the chamber.

Hanover, president of the State AFL-CIO, said in a speech at an occupational - safety conference Tuesday that:

Time for Anger

"Every time we have fought to improve factory-safety laws or to see to it that there were enough enforcement officers to police these laws, we have been opposed by the State Chamber of Commerce or the Associated Industries."

He noted that 1,480 workers were killed and 649,000 were injured annually as a result of industrial accidents in the state.

"Indeed it is a time for anger. Workers and unions are justified in being impatient with the slow and uneven progress in the improvement of state safety laws and enforcement...," he said.

John J. Roberts, executive vice president of the chamber, said in Albany it was to the employers' own interests to encourage industrial safety because it meant lower workmen's compensation rates and a saving to the employer.

Roberts, who accused Hanover of "propagandizing", said "even Mr. Hanover will admit that an employer's first interest is in saving money."

No Evidence of Charge

Joseph R. Shaw, president of Associated Industries, added in Albany that there was not "a shred of evidence to substantiate Mr. Hanover's charge."

Associated Industries since 1925 had conducted an annual statewide industrial-safety campaign. Over the 35 years, he said, the average accident frequency rate of participants has been reduced from more than 22 lost-time accidents per million man-hours of work to less than 6¼.

"The record shows that we have eagerly sought to advance the cause of industrial safety," Shaw said.

Hanover, in his speech, said progress in safety laws and enforcement often was held back by the plea that "no single state can afford to be too humane, too careful of workers' health and lives, lest the lower costs of operations in other less safety-conscious states induce employers to migrate to those states."

The union leader called for adoption of federal standards for health and safety to eliminate the "crazy quilt of laws" that "encourages disastrous competition between the various jurisdictions, with the life and health of workers as pawns."

Urges More Funds

He also urged additional funds for the State Labor Department to police industrial plants.

The department's industrial-safety program, Hanover said, has an annual budget of about 2 million dollars, compared with annual costs of 300 million dollars for workmen's compensation.

"The inadequacy of our appropriation is even more evident if we translate them into people and service," he said, adding:

"The division of Industrial Safety Service, with its 325 field inspectors, is widely regarded as an underpaid, undertrained, understaffed, and a politically ridden agency that has for this reason been under criticism for many years."

Approximately 100 union stewards and safety personnel are attending the two-day conference, which is sponsored by the union and the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University.

Ike Going to Lisbon

PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Lisbon, Portugal, Thursday for an overnight visit. He plans to return to Washington Friday.

The President originally had planned to be in Lisbon next Monday and Tuesday, but collapse of the summit conference brought about revision of his schedule today. his headquarters announced.

Nixon Says Ike Had Summit Plan For Checks by UN

AUBURN, N. Y. (AP) — Vice President Nixon says that President Eisenhower took with him to Paris a plan that the United Nations undertake aerial surveillance with equipment similar to that in the U-2.

Nixon said the President had informed him that he intended to present the proposal at the summit conference.

The vice president made the remarks at a press conference here Tuesday while on tour of Upstate New York.

Nixon took pains to refute speculation that Eisenhower had not informed him in advance of the President's decision to halt and not resume spy plane flights.

Nixon said he was under wraps when he appeared on a television program Sunday night in which he defended the necessity of gathering information by such methods.

N.Y. Senators See Khrush Trying to Influence Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's outburst in Paris was an abortive attempt to influence U.S. elections this fall, New York's senators feel.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) called the outburst "an insult of the first order." Sen. Jacob Javits (R-NY) said the American people already have closed ranks in the face "of such an obvious maneuver."

In a Senate speech Tuesday, Javits said "Khrushchev has made a completely wrong estimate of the spirit of the American people."

Keating said Khrushchev's demand for an American apology on the spy plane incident and punishment of those responsible was "as phony as an aluminum half dollar." Keating added sarcastically:

"I suppose Khrushchev thinks Congress ought to impeach the President and sentence (Central Intelligence Agency Director) Allen Dulles to 20 years at hard labor. Khrushchev better think again."

Javits said the real issue "the morning after" is to renew efforts to integrate resources of the free world and create a rule of law under the United Nations.

But, he added, the United Nations has not stood up to its responsibility to create such a law. "Its diplomacy is still distinguished by playing it safe."

The United States, Javits said, should not put all its eggs in the summit baskets.

Child Health Clinic

A child health, conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Tuesday, May 24, at 9 to 11 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whoping cough and polio.

Woman, Man Get Jail Terms for Swindle Attempt

Accused of attempting to swindle $500 from a 19-year-old Poughkeepsie girl, a man and a woman were sentenced to terms in the Dutchess County jail Tuesday by Judge John R. Schwartz.

Louis Young, 74, Charleston, W. Va., was sentenced to nine months in jail, and Mrs. Mary Mattie McGee, 37, Albany, drew a term of six months.

The defendants were accused of telling Miss Constance May Wells, of Poughkeepsie, they found a pocketbook containing $1,500 and would share the money with her if she would provide a security of $500 to show good faith. The incident was reported to police and the defendants were apprehended.

"When you get out of jail," Schwartz told the defendants, "I hope you will leave here and not come back to Dutchess County. One thing is sure, you won't be able to try a swindle like this on anyone else for a while."

The judge noted that Young had been arrested 44 times, on charges including petty and grand larceny involving swindles. Schwartz also said to the defendants, "you couldn't quite put this over on the girl here, because she became suspicious and went to the police."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 18, 1960

BIG STEP FORWARD

No one should imagine that Senator John Kennedy's rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination will fold up their tents and yield the field now that he has won impressively in the West Virginia primary.

The prize at stake is a big one—the most powerful single office in the world—and it is seldom if ever handed on a platter to anyone.

Nevertheless, Kennedy has unmistakably advanced his prospects for the nomination. And his chief competitors, Senators Stuart Symington and Lyndon Johnson and dark horse Adlai Stevenson, now will be hard-pressed to overtake him.

Leaders in many big states—New York, Illinois, Michigan, California, New Jersey—have been awaiting favorable signals before crystallizing an evident heavy support for Kennedy in their areas. Many will regard the West Virginia result as a clear signal.

They will accept it as more than just evidence that Kennedy can consistently get votes, in Eastern, Midwestern, and border states, wherever he tests himself.

They will see it as proof he can do this even against such substantial obstacles as he faced in West Virginia, including opposition from Senator Robert Byrd of that state, from an informal coalition of Johnson-Symington backers, and from those who objected to him as a Catholic.

One thing the West Virginia primary did for the whole United States:

It demonstrated that religious difference need not be a crucial, divisive issue in this country at a time when we are beset by so many other vastly more important matters.

Kennedy won heavily in many Protestant or non-Catholic parts of the state. The "hard core" opposition on this score was never so great as some had foreseen. The country does indeed seem to have matured markedly in this respect.

The demonstration that this is so will now enable Kennedy, his rivals, and politicians and citizens generally to thrust religion far into the background where it belongs.

We can wisely leave behind the brief stirrings of bitterness engendered by the close battles between Kennedy and Humphrey, his beaten adversary.

Humphrey has chosen the only sane course in withdrawing altogether from the 1960 race. His chances never were bright. The voters of Wisconsin and West Virginia have confirmed this, and he has bowed to their verdict.

But Kennedy's other opponents can be expected to bow only when they see that he has in hand the 761 votes required to nominate at Los Angeles.

WORD TO THE CARELESS

Litterbug is not quite the word It is the common word, all right, for the person who scatters paper and other debris across the countryside. But it lacks flavor. It is too polite. It fails to get across the feelings that most of us experience when we see a place were the despoilers, the mess-makers, have passed.

Though appeals to such persons may seem futile, that is not necessarily true. The saving thing about it is that those who litter public places are not all messy by nature. Many are simply careless, or thoughtless.

For every vandal who deliberately scatters beer cans on a picnic spot, or dumps garbage on a highway, there is one who leaves debris because he simply didn't think to clean up after himself. It is to these, the careless, the unthinking, that we say: Remember, the beauty and orderliness of your world depend as much on you as on the next fellow.

The stock market's tendency to bounce up and down is called normal behavior. It's also normal to enjoy catching it on the bounce.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

TRUMAN ON HOOVER

Harry Truman is forthright. What he wants to say, he says. The diversions of diplomacy, the twists of small talk seem not to interest him at all. In an article in "Look" magazine, he describes vividly how General Dwight D. Eisenhower snubbed him on Inauguration Day. And Harry is like an elephant. Every attempt to reconcile Truman and Eisenhower has failed. It is to be remembered that Truman had appointed Eisenhower to high office. To a practical politician, such as Truman always is, Eisenhower is an ingrate—an awful word among politicians.

At any rate, in the "Look" article, Truman goes out of his way to point up Eisenhower as a rude, boorish person, lacking in propriety and respect. Then, by way of contrast, he lauds Herbert Hoover.

Regarding Hoover, Truman says:

"I shook hands with President Eisenhower and said good-by to him. As I walked toward the exit, I went over to former President Herbert Hoover and greeted him. Mr. Hoover said, 'I think we ought to organize a former Presidents' club.'

" 'Fine,' I replied. 'You be the president of the club, and I will be the secretary.'

"Without any formality, we have managed to keep in touch with each other since. Despite our basic political differences, we have respect for each other, and our relationship has always been in the best American tradition. Our Republic certainly has grown mature enough for men in high places to rise above petulance, and to subordinate their capriciousness to their obligations as elected officials."

Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman developed a friendship which has most interesting overtones. Hoover, who is a very sensitive person, could never quite understand how his friend, Truman, in a campaign speech, could say some pretty awful things about Hoover. Nevertheless, the friendship has persisted. During the Truman Administration, Hoover, who had been ignored by Franklin D. Roosevelt as though he did not exist, was twice employed in most serious efforts.

The Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, usually called the Hoover Commission, has been closest to President Hoover's heart and to it he devoted several years of his life at a very advanced age. It made Herbert Hoover happy to be restored to public activity. He worked on the Hoover Commission constantly and its reports are models of competent investigation. Truman speaks of Hoover's relief work:

"Mr. Hoover did a magnificent job for our country, and for other nations, in helping to prevent the starvation of millions of people. And when his work was taken up by the relevant government agencies, he expressed a readiness to assume any other tasks I thought he could perform for the Government of the United States."

Summarizing his views on Hoover, Truman says:

"I shall never be able to understand the long neglect of Herbert Hoover, no matter what the events and circumstances of his Administration were. How history may eventually assess his Administration we ought to leave to history. Politically and economically, he and I are on opposite sides on basic issues. But I hold him in high esteem as a man of character and capacity and talent, and he deserved better treatment at the hands of his own party. I thought, too, that President Roosevelt might have invited him to join the bipartisan group so wisely set up to administer the war effort."

Harry Truman's judgment of Herbert Hoover is sound, as anyone who knows the former President well recognizes. Hoover, at 85, is as keen-minded as any man I know. He is on the beam on political questions, domestic and foreign. Daily he meets important and active people as they pass through New York. Each year he goes to Florida to fish and to California where he has lived so large a part of his life. He is busily engaged writing the books which are published one after the other each year. Retired from active partisan politics, his influence grows each year as, more and more, his juniors ask his advice.

Harry Truman is much in the same position on the Democratic side. What our system proves is that high-minded men can campaign against each other, oppose each other, hold differing views and live in friendship. It is not that they do not take their politics seriously; it is that they recognize that hatred, bigotry, retaliation are not desirable qualities in a free society.

Throat Infections Demand Analysis by Your Doctor

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A questionnaire dealing with tonsillitis, quinsy, adenoiditis and tonsillectomy has been sent me by a committee of "curious and worried mothers" living in and around Pittsburgh.

Instead of replying directly to each of their 18 questions, I think I can better "clarify" their minds and relieve their anxieties by providing over-all considerations of the probems of throat infections and of bodily defenses against these infections.

To begin with, you must understand that the tonsils are the right and left guards of a lymphoid defense ring that includes the lingual tonsil, situated on the back of the tongue, and the adenoid group that looks down on the throat from high up in the back of the nose.

Contrary to older beliefs, these structures do not contribute any important secretion to the tissues. They are not, in the strict sense of the word, to be referred to as "glands."

To the best of present knowledge, they function as outposts of the body defenses organization.

Their main assignment is to pick off and destroy bacterial invaders before they can sneak into and infiltrate our tissues.

Now while any infecting organism may try to get through the lymphoid defense ring, viruses and streptococci pose the main threat.

Less often, the invaders are staphylococci, pneumococci meningogocci, diphtheria and tubercle bacilli, and fungi of various sorts. That's one reason why only a very ignorant person would presume to look in a throat and say you had a "strep" infection.

Any time there's a border clash between invading bacteria and your lymphoid protectors, your tonsil gets red and swollen during the heat of battle. Then you complain of a sore throat and difficulty in swallowing.

If the going is particularly rough and some of the enemy get through the tonsils, you may even note swelling and pain in the secondary defense line composed of the lymph nodes (not "glands" as they're commonly called) situated in your neck and under your jaw.

When the battle of casualties begin to mount up, heaps of slaughtered bacteria and martyred cells come into sight.

Usually in a "strep" infection, these heaps look like the "white spots" my correspondent asked about.

In diphtheria, they appear like a dirty grey film that sticks to the surface and spreads in every direction.

But even an expert can be fooled by what he sees with the naked eye. That's why your doctor insists on making a throat culture so he can get positive identification of the criminal from his laboratory.

"Well, I Know You Weren't Out With Any Girls"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Nelson Rockefeller and John Kennedy still insist they will not take vice presidential nominations, even if drafted. But few people take them seriously.

Republicans hope that Rockefeller will consent to run, with Nixon in first place. Die-hard backers of Stevenson for Democratic presidential nod hope that Kennedy would run with him as vice presidential nominee. Kennedy probably would not run with any other Democratic presidential nominee, however.

There are cases in which politicians have said they wouldn't run for v.p., and stuck to it. GOP Senators William Borah of Idaho and Hiram Johnson of California refused to run with Warren Harding in 1920.

If either had taken this nomination, he would have been president after Harding's death in '21. Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts took it. When nominated for president in '24, he offered the vice presidency to Gov. Frank Lowden of Illinois. Lowden had said he wouldn't take it and he didn't. Gen. Charles G. Dawes did.

IOWA GOV. Herschel Loveless, who came to Washington to preside over the Democratic Advisory Committee's farm policy meeting, says population growth will solve the farm problem in 10 to 15 years, by increasing the number of consumers. The political farm problem is how to get by the next three or four administrations without disaster.

As for Agriculture Secretary Benson's farm policies, Loveless remarks that, "They are known failures to such a point that everybody's tired of talking about something else."

The Democrats then proceeded to re-endorse their old program for 90 per cent parity payments. This is what got the farm situation in its present mess in the first place.

YOUNG REPUBLICAN and Young Democratic organizations are actually going to co-operate on something.

This came out when Young Republican National Federation and Young Democratic Clubs of America agreed to be joint sponsors for an "Atlantic Conference of Young Political Leaders" to be held here May 26-June 1.

The 17 European NATO countries will send 70 delegates; Canada, 20; U. S. 50—25 Democrats and 25 GOP. None will be over 40. Only trouble is that the GOP may have to run in some ringers.

There are 41 Democrats in Congress under 40, but only 17 Republicans.

SENATE Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson may have had high hopes that his presidential prospects would rise after passage of a new civil rights bill. But in the opinion of Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, the legislation will do nothing for the Texan. It is weak enough so that it will cost him no southern votes, but so weak that it gains him no northern votes.

CALIFORNIA GOV. Edmund P. Brown's presidential aspirations haven't caught hold in the east the way he and some others had hoped. But now he has opposition in his own state.

George McLain, self-styled director of the Old Folks' Lobby in California and in Washington, will oppose Brown in the June 7 primary. He isn't given much chance. But he can put steam behind the drive for medical aid for the aged. This would be a big issue, whether the Democrats don't take Eisenhower's plan, or whether the President vetoes the Democratic Forand or McNamara plans.

PAST RECORDS GIVE no clues on what may happen in the Oregon primary May 20. This is the most important test for the Democrats before the convention.

There is no Republican opposition to Nixon. And Stevenson is not in it officially. But all the other Democratic hopefuls are.

In 1956, Stevenson won the primary with 98,000 write-ins. Kefauver was second, 62,000; Harriman, third, 1,800. In '52 it was Kefauver 142,000, Douglas 29,000, Stevenson 20,000, and Eisenhower 4,690 Democratic write-ins. In the Republican race, Ike got 172,000 to Warren's 44,000. That was prophetic.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With the second quarter of 1960 half over, business is getting a better idea today of what to expect. And the view is more cheerful.

The February-March slide in many industries ended in April. Early May found a number of important business indicators turning higher.

No Definite Pattern

But also a number of important ones—steel output and home building, for example—stay weak or trend lower. The stock market has continued to back and fill. Neither declines nor rallies have as yet set a strong, definite pattern after the tumble early in the year.

On balance, therefore, the mixed view of the economy would seem to persist. We're in what is sometimes called a sidewise motion.

But those who feared the second quarter might see the start of a real downturn are taking comfort that it is holding strength.

Industrial production as a whole held steady in April at 109 per cent of the 1957 average after a two months' slide from the record of 111 per cent in January. The April figure compares with 107 per cent in the same month last year.

It was a pickup in consumer goods output that did the trick. More autos, furniture and TV and radio sets were built, more clothing, produced. This increase offset the drop in output of steel and other industrial materials and equipment.

Auto Sales Rising

The upswing in consumer goods output was sparked by the overall retail sales gain of 3 per cent in March.

Auto sales have continued to rise in May. The first third of the month shows 5 per cent more sold than in the early days of April, and 6.5 per cent more than in early May 1959.

The gain in retail sales, in turn, may be linked with the rise in total employment, although the number of factory jobs didn't advance, and with the drop in total unemployment, despite it's continuing at a higher than hoped for level.

In the heavy industrial sector the figures are less comforting. Steel output is down to around 70 per cent of acapacity, and the flow of new orders forecasts further cutbacks.

Steel Prices Cut

For steel customers there's comfort, however, in the signs that steel price cuts—and not the feared steel price rises—are in the news.

Iron Age, the industry weekly, notes a flurry of cuts in prices of some steel products. The publication stresses that signs of general price weakness are lacking. But the selective cuts tend to allay earlier fears that the last steel wage settlement would lead inevitably to general price hikes, with widespread results in other industires.

Home building still lags. Some easing in the investment markets hasn't yet sparked an upturn. On the contrary, the lessening of demand for mortgage financing is seen as one of the reasons for general easing in the money market. Recent wide fluctuations in interest rates in the short-term market has accented this.

Khrushchev Policy Called Likely to Anger Russians

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Is the world face to face with another Hitler? Will the next few months see another set of appeasement maneuvers in the West such as began at Munich in 1938?

These are strange questions to be asking, but no less strange than a Reuters news dispatch from London last night which read as follows:

"Threatened breakdown of the Paris 'summit' talks tonight stirred a world-wide wave of pessimism and talk of war.

" 'Will there be war?' People in Paris were asking, echoing the anxious words of others elsewhere. . . .

"Some West German newspapers said Khrushchev's conduct brought back grim memories of Hitler and 'the period of surprises' with which the Nazi dictator opened what one paper called 'the most terrible period of history.' Another compared Khrushchev to 'Stalin in his best days' while a West Berlin daily said the Kremlin leader 'plays poker with peace.' "

Thus does a world in jitters speculate as it sees again what damage a one-man dictatorship can do. But just as at Munich a firm hand might have checkmated Hitler, so today a firm hand can checkmate a Khrushchev. While talking arrogantly and threateningly, the Soviet dictator knows that if there are no conferences to relieve tension and no progress toward agreements on outstanding issues, the people of Russia will also get jittery. They could oust Khrushchev for fear he might plunge them into a nuclear war.

Outwardly, therefore, things look grim but actually there are signs that Khrushchev is playing a game. He is blunt, defiant, outspoken, but he is also canny. He will discover that the Western Alliance cannot be divided, and he will learn, too, that Americans will rally behind their President despite the minority of shortsighted politicians here who show signs of trying to get some political mileage out of an insinuation that President Eisenhower is somehow to blame for the torpedoing of the "summit" conference.

The Soviet leader cannot pose as a peacemaker and then suddenly be revealed as a maker of war. The reaction of the West indicates an apprehension that he may overplay his hand and that his arbitrary tactics some day will force a war.

The texts of the various communications indicate that the Soviet Premier is almost child-like in his defensiveness. Once President Eisenhower refused to go to a "summit" conference because Mr. Khrushchev threatened the West with an ultimatum. So today the Soviet Premier says he, too, can refuse to go, under the duress of the spy-plane incident.

Russian Revolt Possible?

But, as any student of diplomatic history would tell Mr. Khrushchev, it's all right to make demands and to bluff, but it's also wise to leave a way out for the other side. Thus he could have construed President Eisenhower's decision to suspend the reconnaissance flights as a point that he had won. But Mr. Khrushchev wasn't satisfied and — like Hitler—has demanded the humiliation of his adversary. This can only lead eventually to a break in diplomatic relations and constant talk of war—something that will arouse the people of the Soviet Union even more quickly than the peoples of the West. For the Russians have the memories of many millions of their countrymen who died in the last war.

There could be a revolution inside the Soviet Union if tension increases and war threatens. Since the "satellite" nations behind the Iron Curtain would be in the path of a war, they too, must inevitably rise up to protest. They would surely join any revolt that breaks out.

Mr. Khrushchev, moreover, has unwittingly opened up the whole question of who should rule in his own country. For he has, in effect, told the world that he wants to postpone any serious negotiations till after the Presidential elections in the United States next November, when he hopes the kind of administration will be elected with which he can do business. If he is trying to choose a President for the United States by throwing his propaganda support to an opposition party, then it might be asked whether it isn't fair play also to let the Americans have something to say about who is to rule Russia.

There ought to be some way to propose reciprocity to the Soviet leader — a free election for Russia in November, with a slate of opposition candidates, in exchange for a moratorium on spy flights or even on some nuclear tests. An announcement that such elections would be held could do more to bring peace in the world than a hundred "summit" conferences. Unfortunately, such elections can not be held till the people of the Soviet Union have recovered possession of their own government.

Morse Is Still Hopeful of Win In Oregon Vote

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts still talked scared—but ran confidently—in Oregon today after racking up an impressive victory in the Maryland Democratic presidential primary.

The victory impressed just about everybody but the victim, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon. He kept right on insisting that the winner-loser roles will be reversed when he and Kennedy collide again in the Oregon primary Friday.

Morse could be right. He has proved himself to be a tough man on his home grounds.

Kennedy told a reporter he will be satisfied if he comes out ahead of Sens. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who are on the Oregon ballot but not campaigning. He lists them, but not Morse, as serious contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota still is on the ballot, too, but no longer as a contender since the Kennedy bandwagon crushed him in West Virginia.

"It seems unlikely I will beat Morse," Kennedy told a reporter. "That would be a difficult thing to do."

Both senators concentrated their operations today on the Portland area, with upwards of a third of the state's population.

The prize Friday is the 17 votes Oregon will carry into the Democratic National Convention.

Failure Brings Queries

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Failure of the Paris summit conference has swamped state Civil Defense headquarters with phone calls.

Officials said there have been so many queries on private bomb shelters and other precautions that it has been necessary to detail several employes just to handle the crush.

Maryland Sweep

Kennedy Is Easy Winner; Strength Now 294½ Votes

BALTIMORE (AP) — A record-breaking wave of votes in the Maryland primary propelled Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts closer to the Democratic presidential nomination today.

Reeling off his sixth straight primary victory, the Massachusetts senator outdrew the combined opposition almost 3-1.

With Maryland's 24, he now has an unofficial total of 294½ votes toward the 761 needed for nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

He and Sen. Wayne Morse, a distant runner-up in Tuesday's balloting, hook up in another primary Friday, this time in Oregon, Morse's home territory.

Returns from 1,353 of 1,356 polling places showed these totals:

Kennedy 200,252
Morse 49,225

The next biggest batch, 25,071, favored sending Maryland's delegation uncommitted to the July 11 convention.

The rest of the ballots were cast for two perennial also-rans who sometimes campaign in Uncle Sam suits—Lar Daly ofChicago with 7,407, and Andrew J. Easter of Baltimore with 3,853.

Kennedy's vote was about 73 per cent of the total cast, which in turn came to about only 33 per cent of the 866,878 eligible Democrats.

But it exceeded by 66,000 the previous high of 134,000 received in the 1952 Maryland presidential primary by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn). Kefauver ran only against the uninstructed-delegation choice that year, when 745,000 Democrats were registered.

Research School On Computers Planned by IBM

Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., today said that it is necessary to increase sharply the new class of computer professionals in the United States to help solve the problem and he announced a major new education effort — the IBM Systems Research Institute to be located on United Nations Plaza in New York City.

The announcement was made in an address to more than 600 members of Guide, an international organization of business computer users meeting at Pittsburgh, Pa., this week.

First of Kind

The new institute will be the first of its kind in the computer industry. The purpose of this graduate-level school will be to train people to find computer system solutions to the most complex business and scientific problems. The curriculum will include such subjects as case studies in systems, design, workshops in systems planning, advanced programming, and business simulation techniques, Watson said. The faculty will include senior IBM systems people and visiting lecturers from industry and leading universities.

The director of the institute will be IBM vice president, John C. McPherson, Watson announced. Annual budget for this school is expected to be about two million dollars.

To Enroll in Fall

The first group of 30 students will be enrolled this fall. Eventually IBM expects to train up to 400 people a year. Watson said, "It is going to take an unusual type of person, the entrance requirements are going to be stiff." He added that the students would be taking courses which, in many cases have never been taught before.

The IBM president discussed laboratory developments which will increase further the speed and performance of business computers. Some examples:

Computer memories with speeds of one half of one-millionth of a second.

Experimental magnetic tape systems which will make it possible to read business information in and out of large scale computers at a rate of more than one million characters per second.

Firms Employing More

Watson cited evidence of the growth of a new class of computer professionals:

A recent survey of 18 large industrial firms shows that they employ about 1,000 special systems people. Seven years ago only five of these firms had any systems men at all.

One utility has over 2,000 people working in data processing, many of them in professional categories.

Another company is freeing five of its top management people to devote their full time to thinking of new ways to utilize their computers most effectively.

Watson said the reach of computers is now being extended by tele-processing, which are systems designed to gather information by wire from remote points, process and store that information in central computers, and make that information available to all points in the network on demand.

He said, "It has been predicted that the day is not far off when there will be more data processing traffic over the nation's telephone wires and lease wires than there are human conversations."

Two Teachers Are

who will complete 32 years of teaching next month.

Mrs. Roosa and Mrs. DePuy were presented with corsages by Jason Goumas, president of the Teachers Association; plaques and certificates of appreciation by Herbert Siemer and Mrs. Gladys Carle, members of the school board; collections of letters, anecdotes and congratulatory cards from former students.

Merton Blanchard, elementary education supervisor of the Rondout Valley schools made the presentation to Mrs. Roosa. Mrs. Lucy Embree made the presentation to Mrs. DePuy.

Speakers at the dinner were Lester J. Roosa, district superintendent of schools, and Kevin Reynolds, president of the school board. Invocation was given by Dixon McGrath.

Other teachers of the Rondout Valley School also were honored guests at the dinner. Mr. Reynolds presented certificates of appreciation to teachers who have completed five, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35 years of service.

Future Farmers

erous new Business developments in the fields of processing and distribution, transportation, packaging, bottling and fabrication of containers, frozen food and refrigerating equipment, appliances used in the processing of foods, promotion media such as newspapers, radio and TV," Commissioner Stone said and pointed out that these were a few of the enterprises "which are indebted wholly or in part to agricultural production."

Traces Farming History

Commissioner Stone traced the history of farming which he said had progressed in great measures during the past century. Farmers represented about 90 per cent of the total population 100 years ago, producing food, clothing, transportation and horsepower for their own immediate needs. As farmers agricultural knowledge increased, production increased and it became necessary to look for markets beyond the farm. Thus has the present big business in allied industries been developed.

In outlining phases of agriculture which are open to the young men of today who are engaged in studying agriculture, Stone said in some phases of agriculture 25 per cent of the gross income may go for machinery and machine maintenance and operation. Cornell reports farmers spend $720 million a year for production needs. This and many other allied fields are offering the young man interested in agriculture today great opportunities. He also referred to the education phase and pointed out the need for college training to qualify for conutry agents, instructors and other positions.

Gives Per Capita Figures

Pointing to the contribution of farmers to the state's welfare, Commissioner Stone said in 1958 nine billion pounds of milk were produced; on a per capita basis 30 pounds of beef, sheep and hogs; six pounds of chicken; nine dozen eggs; 98 pounds of potatoes; five pounds dried beans; 100 pounds of fresh vegetables and a bushel of apples.

He outlined the progress made in agriculture and said many new things were ahead.

In the field of merchandising of farm produce he referred to the wide selection of farm foods offered in the markets and said the "grocery list" was a thing of the past.

Surveys show 70 per cent of consumer purchases are now planned purchases. Attractive display of merchandise in food markets for "spur of the moment" purchase.

In closing Commissioner told the young "Ag" students "if you take advantage of your education and other facilities that are available plus new advances which you will make, agriculture will continue to grow to even bigger business."

Soper Tells of K.H.S. Program

Thomas Redmond of Stone Ridge, president of the Kingston Chapter, Future Farmers, presided and presented Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of the Kingston School District, Consolidated, to the 125 persons present which included parents of the boys and their guests.

Dr. Soper spoke of the comhensive program offered by the Kingston school system, including the agriculture course and said he welcomed the boys from the Rondout Valley to the school. He also paid a tribute to the ability of Mr. Klein as instructor in the Agriculture Department.

Others who were presented by President Redmond were William H. Palmer and Robert Guzewich of the Farm Bureau, Robert Kelder of Stone Ridge who spoke as representative of the parents of the boys; Franklin H. Hazard, assistant superintendent of schools; Acting Principal Hubert Hoderath of Kingston High School; Harry Beatty, a member of the advisory board of K.H.S. Train Salesmen, Speaker Tells Business Leaders at Meeting

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A sales executive said today that "most" salesmen "got into this field by accident or desperation....then spend forty or fifty years compounding the felony."

G. Worthington Hipple, regional manager of the Fedders Corp. of Mespath, N.Y., said a large number of the salesmen start their training "with a look at the plant, learn how to make out a daily report, the expense account, and away we go."

"Everybody trains for his life's work except the salesman," Hipple said in a speech at the 25th annual meeting of the National Sales Executive International.

Hipple said advertising was the most potent sales weapon in the American economy.

However, he said:

"Customers do come in, and then disaster strikes....salesmen let the advertising down."

He advised the executives to give their salesmen "a solid education" and avoid awarding prizes for sales leadership.

In a business session Tuesday night Fred C. Emerson of Springfield, Mass., was elected president of NSE to succeed J. A. Mc Ilnay. Emerson is vice president and sales manager of the Spartan Saw Works in Springfield.

The meeting's "Sales Executive of the Year" award was presented to Dudley Dowell, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors and vice president of the New York Life Insurance Co.

Nixon Says Red Spies Seized Here As Khrush Spoke

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today two Russians were apprehended in Massachusetts for espionage at the very time Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was making a peace speech before the United Nations during his visit to this country.

"When Khrushchev was here, there was no intelligence gap as far as he was concerned," Nixon said at a news conference.

The vice president said the two Russians were traveling with diplomatic status and had been trying to obtain secret information about this country.

Nixon at first said the pair were picked up in Illinois, but an aide said later the agents were caught in Springfield, Mass.

Nixon said he could not go into details of other Soviet spying efforts because to do so might expose the sources of intelligence that this country has.

In Washington, there was no immediate official comment on Nixon's statement.

However, newsmen were told that two alleged espionage agents for Russia had been spotted and identified in Massachusetts at about the time referred to by the vice president, but had not actually been picked up.

Under the procedure for handling spying in this country, such spotting without an immediate arrest is not uncommon.

A burglar or burglars, apparently frightened by police or someone in the area, ran from the Tunnel Inn, 583 Delaware Avenue, early today leaving behind a money bag containing $45.70 and abandoning tools.

Police found the money, a jimmy and screwdriver and other items in the tavern which had been entered through the breaking of a rear window.

A man had notified police headquarters that a prowler was in the area and Sgt. William Snyder, patrolmen Floyd Krom, Joseph Kivlan and Robert Bonesteel with detectives Albert Hutton and Harold DeGraff were dispatched to the tavern.

Alarm Defies Warning

A false alarm was sounded this morning only a day after Fire Chief James M. Brett had issued a warning against the practice and asked public cooperation in apprehending persons involved. The alarm at 8:10 a. m., was sounded at Box 1242, Clinton Avenue and Henry Street. It drew out eight pieces of apparatus from Central, and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks, Excelsior and Wiltwyck volunteer companies. Two alarms had been sounded earlier in the week.

4 Top Democrats Back Ike's Hand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four top Democrats backed President Eisenhower's hand at the abortive summit conference with a cablegram asking him to give Nikita Khrushchev their view that the Soviet Premier should reconsider his suggestion for postponement of the conference until after the U.S. elections.

The message, it was disclosed today, was sent to Eisenhower Tuesday with the signatures of:

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956.

Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Wallkill Resident Receives $3,500 For False Arrest

Warren P. Mierop, of Wallkill, was awarded $3,500 today in the Court of Claims, Albany, for false arrest and illegal committment to the Middletown State Hospital in August, 1955.

The arrest and committment, authorities said, followed an incident at the Orange County Fair. Attorney John J. Schick appeared for Mierop.

Two Hurt on Thruway

Two Herkimer men were admitted to Kingston Hospital this afternoon following a mishap on the Thruway about five miles south of Kingston. Jerome White and Richard Tongoria were reported apparently satisfactory. It was reported unofficially that the men were in a pickup truck involved in a mishap at mile post 86. No further details were available at press time.

Dip in Private

Don't dip that radish or celery rib into an open salt cellar when you are dining out or at home! Put a little salt on your bread-and-butter or dinner plate and do your dipping from this private home base!

Drip With Chocolate

Simple drop cookies take on added interest if you dribble melted sweet cooking chocolate over them after they are baked and cooled. Use one square for two dozen cookies.

City Doesn't Cooperate

Editor, The Freeman

The recent resignation of the president of the Uptown Businessmen's Association points up the fact that there has been a lack of cooperation amongst the merchants. But, let's not put the whole blame on them for there is no cooperation in any way for the highest paying tax area in the city by the city fathers. The city, the uptown business section is an orphan as far as improvements are concerned. The street lighting is poor, fire engines use Wall Street as a racetrack and the lack of municipal parking is atrocious.

If just 10 per cent of the parking meter take was put back into new parking lots for the uptown area, it would be fine. Otherwise within 10 years the city will have a retail slum. To be convinced, take a look at the empty stores uptown going begging for tenants. When a local citizen pays thousands of dollars for a car, he wants space to park it when he shops. The 19 feet of automobile he lovingly drives needs room and the city still is in the 19th century thinking as far as its people are concerned.

It never occurs to me that anyone ever reads a letter to the editor, since it usually praises something. It probably will be a source of embarrassment to me if anyone mentions they read this, but the fact remains someone has to wake up the big boys.

Sincerely
JOE SCOTT

Proposed Merger Likely Doomed

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. now owns nearly 40 per cent of the shares of U.S. Envelope Co., apparently dooming a proposed merger of U.S. Envelope and Hammermill Paper Co.

David L. Luke, president of West Virginia, said Tuesday his firm owns 409,450 shares of the 1,025,000 shares outstanding of U. S. Envelope.

Stockholders of U.S. Envelope were scheduled to meet at Portland, Me., June 15 to vote on the proposed merger. However, observers say West Virginia will have control of U.S. Envelope by then.

Luke, asked to predict whether West Virginia would be successful in acquiring U.S. Envelope, commented "I'd rather not, at least until we have 51 per cent control."

He said West Virginia probably would allow U.S. Envelope operations to continue as usual for the present. He would not say whether the company would operate independently in the future.

Malinovsky May Play Big Part in Kremlin Politics

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

PARIS (AP) — Some Western observers see Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's constant companion at the stillborn summit conference, as a man whose influence may play an important role in Kremlin politics.

The stocky, square-jawed Soviet defense minister would probably play an important part in any struggle for power that developed in the Soviet Union.

Resentment Rising

This does not mean that he would necessarily oppose Khrushchev. There are plain indications, however, that within the armed forces there has arisen a hard core of resentment which could ally itself with political forces opposing Khrushchev's foreign and domestic policies.

The Soviet army has long regarded itself as immune to the pressures which play upon other elements in the dictatorial society. This is particularly true of its officer corps. They are known to have resented the cuts in the armed forces which Khrushchev directed in order to give emphasis to the peace offensive which —up to now—has colored his foreign policy.

May Have Given Advice

At the Paris conference, Khrushchev seemed to be unusually attentive to Malinovsky. The question naturally arose whether there was any connection between this and Khrushchev's startling performance.

In two days, the Soviet Premier rolled back the years to the edgy and dangerous days of 1948—when Joseph Stalin blockaded Berlin. Not in the 12 years since have feelings between the Soviet Union and the United States been so taut.

Who is responsible for Khrushchev's sudden shift? Is it the army, allied with certain politicians? If so, where does Malinovsky stand?

Various Incidents

cycle police escort.

An estimated 10,000 garment center workers took part in an outdoor rally in New York in connection with the Supreme Court decision. The rally also served to protest tax evasion charges lodged against King in Alabama.

In Chicago, 250 Negro and white high school and college students picketed a downtown variety store commemorating the desegregation decision and in sympathy with lunch counter sit-downs in the South.

At Montgomery, two Negroes who were expelled from Alabama State College for earlier racial activities were thwarted in attempts to use the Capitol cafeteria and city library traditionally reserved for white persons.

Five arrests and a minor scuffle marked sit-down demonstrations by nine Negro college students at Memphis, Tenn. The arrests were made in a drug store. Two Negroes who sat down at a variety store lunch counter were shoved out on to the sidewalk by white youths.

The Justice Department filed a suit in federal court at Vicksburg, Miss., designed to end segregation on Gulf Coast beaches in that state. Fights erupted between Negroes and white persons last month after Negroes attempted to swim at Biloxi Beach.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., the Hamilton County juvenile court went on record as "recognizing the right" of Negro juveniles to engage in sit-in demonstrations in limited numbers and in orderly fashion.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—A mighty upsurge of defense issues was the stock market's response today to the collapse of the summit conference. Very heavy trading at the start dwindled early this afternoon.

Prospects of an intensified cold war boomed missile and electronic stocks.

Trading in the first two hours totaled two million shares.

While space age defense issues soared, many of them traded in huge blocks, the more prosaic issues lagged.

Steels accompanied the rise of the new stock leaders. Motors, rails, chemicals, oils and tobaccos took losses. Utilities edged ahead on balance. The over-all market gain was slight.

Thiokol, the rocket fuel maker, held most of an initial gain of 3⅜.

Universal Match plummeted 6 and Polaroid about 3.

Texas Instruments was up more than 3. Gains of about 2 were held by Boeing and Douglas Aircraft. Up more than a point were United Aircraft, General Dynamics, Martin Co. and North American Aviation.

Corporate bonds and U.S. governments declined.

U.N. May Get Spy Plane Case

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats predicted today Soviet spy plane charges and American demands for measures to prevent sneak attack both may come before the U.N. General Assembly next month.

This belief grew as the Big Four summit conference broke up.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said last week the U.S.S.R. would put the spy plane case before both the Assembly and the U.N. Security Council "whenever it is necessary."

President Eisenhower said Monday that "in the near future" he would propose that the U.N. create a system of aerial surveillance against surprise attack to operate in all countries that would accept it. He did not say to which U.N. body he would send the proposal.

When Eisenhower refused to apologize to Khrushchev for the May Day flight of the U.S. spy plane downed by the Soviets over Soviet territory and the Paris conclave collapsed, U.N. delegates said both the Soviet Union and the United States probably would ask for a meeting of the 11-nation Security Council, perhaps this week.

A Soviet resolution to condemn the United States as an aggressor would fail to get the seven votes necessary for approval. The Soviets would veto the American "open sky" proposal. Both countries then would seek special session of the 82-nation Assembly to act on their proposals.

Most diplomats believed it would be difficult for either proposal to get the two-thirds vote in the Assembly necessary for approval. But some thought the United States could win with a resolution referring the aerial surveillance plan to the 10-nation disarmament committee in Geneva—where the Communist bloc could veto it again.

'Bravo' Is . . .

Big Three on the summit conference.

Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France were reported to have agreed that the total collapse of the Big Four talks means an increase in East-West tensions and grave new difficulties in disarmament negotiations.

Make Goodby Visits

The Soviet chief, accompanied by Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, defense minister, made a goodby visit to Macmillan at the British Embassy and French President Charles de Gaulle at the Elysee Palace.

Khrushchev was first booed by a small crowd outside the British Embassy. He drove from there to the Elysee Palace, and spent 40 minutes talking with De Gaulle.

The usually ebullient Khrushchev sat back in his limousine and looked glum.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met for 70 minutes at the French Foreign Office to assess the dangers to East-West relations and world peace.

Dimmer Than Ever

They were reported to have agreed that prospects for East-West accords on initial disarmament measures are far dimmer than before the Big Four gathered here. The chance of solving the remaining problems in nuclear weapons test ban negotiations had declined, they felt.

Eisenhower and other Western leaders meanwhile began assessing the danger of new cold war crises likely to result from Khrushchev's explosion of personal and official hostility toward the U.S. President.

Western diplomats feared the Soviet leader now would develop an increasingly tough and risky policy toward the United States and its allies. A new Berlin crisis was a possibility. The future of disarmament hopes also was entangled in the wreckage of the summit conference.

Plans Go Astray

Gone was the plan of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to make the Paris summit meeting the start of a series of top-level peacemaking conferences. The failure of the summit conference also buried French President Charles de Gaulle's hopes of arranging a cold war truce.

Going through the preliminaries to leaving, Khrushchev and Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defense minister, paid a protocol call on De Gaulle this morning, a routine gesture preliminary to the Soviet Premier's departure for East Berlin and Moscow.

No Call on Ike

En route to see De Gaulle, they stopped at the British Embassy to say goodby to Macmillan. Aides said Macmillan almost certainly would try to keep some line of personal communication with Khrushchev open despite the collapse of the summit talks.

It was quite certain, however, that Khrushchev would not be paying any farewell call on Eisenhower. The two men did not shake hands or have any personal conversation at the meeting of the Big Four on Monday.

The Soviet Premier also sent word to the press center that he would hold a news conference. This would give him a last chance in Paris to thunder his charge that Eisenhower torpedoed the meeting by refusing to condemn U.S. espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan scheduled a late-afternoon conference at the Elysee Palace, following a meeting of their foreign ministers at the French Foreign Office.

De Gaulle invited Eisenhower and nine members of his delegation to lunch.

Indiciations were that Eisenhower and Macmillan would leave Paris Thursday. The President is due to go home by way of Portugal, where he will visit Lisbon for two days. Macmillan is expected to report to the House of Commons.

Attitude of Disgust

White House press secretary James Hagerty said Eisenhower's attitude toward Khrushchev's behavior was one of "complete disgust." Hagerty added the President's allies—presumably meaning Macmillan and De Gaulle—felt the same way.

But the Western Big Three were careful not to express any such feeling in a pre-midnight joint statement.

In the mildest of terms, they noted that "because of the attitude of the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union, it has not been possible to begin, at the summit conference, the examination of the problems which it had been agreed would be discussed between the four chiefs of state or government."

West Ready to Talk

The Western leaders expressed regret at this and for the record left the door open to resumption of East-West talks, saying they "remain ready to take part in such negotiations at any suitable time in the future."

A parallel Soviet statement pointed the finger of blame at the United States, saying: "It is common knowledge that it was the U.S. government which, by the aggressive actions against the Soviet Union on the eve of the summit conference and by its persistant refusal to bear responsibility for these actions had torpedoed the conference, awaited with such hopes by all nations of the world."

The Soviet statement also declared readiness to negotiate but restated Khrushchev's condition that "the United States remove the obstacle which hampers the beginning of the conference," meaning Eisenhower's refusal to apologize for the U.S. spy flights over Soviet territory and to punish those responsible for the flights.

Successor . . .

idate the Soviet camp," he said. "If we are to negotiate it must be without blackmail, without menace."

Hopes for Better Climate

But he said he hoped it would be possible for a Big Four meeting to be held again in six or eight months when a "better climate" may exist.

As to the present meeting, Khrushchev sought to put the blame for its collapse on the United States.

"The Soviet government regrets," he said, "that the summit conference could not be held at this moment. But we could not do otherwise. We prepared the conference well but certain hotheads in the United States torpedoed it."

Will Sign . . .

conference to sign a treaty with East Germany alone.

2-State Pact Possible

Sinderman, in a radio-television interview Tuesday night, stressed that a peace pact would never be signed until after a full-fledged peace conference. For the record, he added that "It still is entirely possible that we achieve a peace treaty with the two German states."

Inviting all nations who fought Germany would give the conference a legal flavor, in the Communist viewpoint at least. But the Soviets obviously realize the Western Allies would not show up without prior negotiations at the summit. Thus only the Communist-bloc nations would attend, and a Red peace pact would emerge.

Summit Breakup, Reaction in Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PARIS — Visiting government chiefs planned to leave Thursday. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev booed in the streets. President Eisenhower drew shouts of "bravo" at Notre Dame cathedral. NATO Council will get reported Thursday on summit breakup.

BERLIN — Communists arranged a mass rally to hear Khrushchev on his stopover in East Berlin Thursday. He may call for a German peace conference as a prelude to signing a separate Soviet treaty with East Germany.

WASHINGTON — Need for a calm reappraisal was emphasized in declarations by senators. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Khrushchev's "erratic actions might precipitate the horror of a nuclear war."

TOKYO — Via Radio Peiping, Red China called President Eisenhower a warmonger and declared Vice President Richard M. Nixon used "the language of an aggressor" in defending U.S. reconnaissance flights over the Soviet Union.

Levitt Critical Of Rocky's Plan For N.Y. Shakeup

WATERFORD, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's proposed reorganization of the state government would make "the governor the most powerful official in the United States," the state comptroller says.

Comptroller Arthur Levitt said Rockefeller would be "more powerful than any other governor or even the President."

Levitt spoke at a dinner of the Saratoga County Democratic Committee Tuesday night.

In a prepared address, which he did not deliver, Levitt said "the state has the financial ability to meet a program" of flat grants to help finance construction of school buildings.

Levitt, in copies of the text distributed in advance to newsmen, called for a 40-million-dollar program of state aid that would grant districts $36 per pupil for construction.

"The next major advance in state aid to education," he predicted, "will come in the area of school construction."

The state now has a limited plan of aid for school building available to rapidly growing districts that have exhausted their borrowing authority.

The state lends these districts about 12 million dollars a year. The money must be repaid within 30 years. The state currently is spending approximately 700 million dollars a year for education.

Levitt, a Democrat, commented that there had been "confusion in leadership" among Republicans during the 1960 Legislature.

The Republican-controlled Legislature, not Republican Gov. Rockefeller, "took the initiative in passing legislation in response to needs which could not be overlooked," the comptroller said.

This was particularly true in education, Levitt said.

Rockefeller originally proposed an increase in state aid of 25 million dollars in addition to a 30-million-dollar mandated increase.

However, the Legislature approved a 69-million-dollar increase recommended by its leaders. This increase also was in addition to the mandated increase.

Refused Mercy

Slayer of Two Dies in Chair

WETHERSFIELD, CONN. (AP)—Joseph Taborsky, the killer who said he was ready to die, was put to death in the electric chair at the state prison Tuesday night.

Convicted of taking part in two murders, Taborsky had confessed five others. He went on a crime spree after being freed from death row on a technicality.

The man whose violent and bloody crime spree several years ago shocked the state was docile as he went to the chair.

The 36-year-old prisoner entered the sparsely furnished green room just before 10:30 p. m., glanced at the newsmen and witnesses seated on high-backed benches a few feet from the wooden chair, and made no sound.

As the guards fastened the restraining straps one by one, he searched out the faces of two newsmen he recognized, lifted a finger as a sign of recognition, and then closed his eyes.

Two thousand volts of electricity began to flow at 45 seconds after 10:32 p. m. and stopped at five seconds after 10:35. He was pronounced deat at 10:36 by Dr. Jefferson McAlpine, senior physician at the prison. The prisoner's death was verified by Dr. Donald R. Hazen, assistant medical examiner for Hartford.

Taborsky took full advantage of the condemned man's traditional right to order what he wanted for his last meal.

The man who was known in the headlines as a "Mad Dog Killer" ordered a big banana split, a bottle of cherry soda, coffee with cream, and cigarettes.

Taborsky could have delayed his execution by appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court. Arthur Culombe, Taborsky's companion in the robbery and killing spree in late 1956 and early 1957, appealed and thus won an automatic stay of execution.

Taborsky could have done the same, but he chose to go without prolonging his stay on death row. He even refused the opportunity to appear before the State Pardons Board, thus becoming the first man in Connecticut ever to cast aside this chance for mercy.

Simple Arithmetic Figures Yields

Q) "What do you think of Canada Southern Petroleum selling around 3½? Is this one of the companies building a pipeline to the American border to connect with Tennessee Gas Transmission? If so, it looks like a good long-range speculative possibility. I hope this does not classify me as a horse player. I like them safe, mostly, but I want some fun too." —J. O.

A) There is no hook-up between Canada Southern and Tennessee Gas. The former is not yet a major gas producer, nor has it any pipe line. It is essentially an oil and gas land-play situation with a good spread and, in my opinion, a pretty fair long-range speculative outlook. I would not consider you a horse player if you bought some stock at recent rather depressed levels. There is potential value in this situation, but I think under present world conditions, it may be quite a while before you realize any fun out of it.

Q) "My only holding is 400 shares of American Telephone. If this stock goes up to 100, would I be wise to sell some and reinvest in another good utility? Am I correct in assuming that as a stock goes up in price the yield goes down?" —D. S.

A) American Telephone is a fine stock, none better. But except in unusual circumstances, it is unwise to keep all your eggs in one basket. If Telephone should get to 100, the yield there would be 3.3 per cent on the present dividend. A switch of part of your holdings would be good policy for diversification, as well as for a higher return. Yields are figured by dividing the annual dividend rate by the price of the stock. It's simple arithmetic, really. As your divisor (market price) goes up, your answer (yield) goes down and vice versa.

Scene of Strife

Brooklyn Parish Ruled Extinct

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP)—A strife-torn Brooklyn parish has been declared extinct by the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Long Island.

Controversy at the Church of the Holy Trinity began 11 years over the left-wing activities of the Rev. William Howard Melish.

He was present at the 93rd annual convention Tuesday at the Cathedral of the Incarnation church house. Neither he nor any member of his faction of parishioners raised a voice against the surprise action.

The Rev. Mr. Melish, who was forced out as supply priest at Holy Trinity about three years ago, has repeatedly denied any Communist connection. When the parishioners first split over his activities, he was head of the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship.

The church has been closed for almost three years on orders of the Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe bishop of Long Island.

A petition to declare the parish extinct—adopted without a dissent—was presented to the bishop by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Sidener, two wardens and six vestrymen. Among the reasons they cited were that the church no longer had sufficient male members to serve as wardens and vestrymen.

Time, Degrees Recorded by Sign At Federal Loan

Mark Twain's comment that nobody does anything about the weather is refuted in the Double "TT" electronic sign installed on the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building at 235 Fair Street.

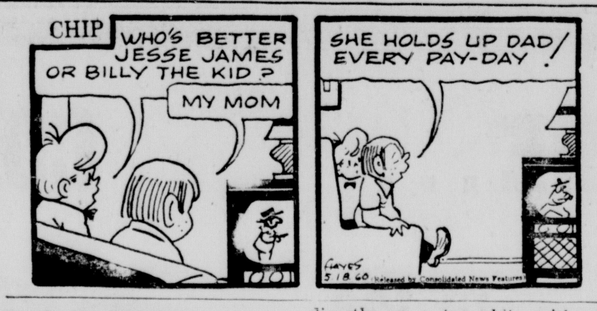

Pedestrians and motorists within four blocks of the new sign can learn the prevailing temperature and exact time through the sign's large flashing numerals.

First Federal Savings and Loan Association planned the sign as a public service for the people of Kingston and vicinity. In other cities throughout the country, Double "TT" time and temperature signs have received a tremendous response from the public.

"Every 24 hour period the unit gives 17,280 readings," according to an official of the uptown institution. "Time accuracy to the minute is assured through the use of self-correcting synchronous motors within the unit."

Even the possibility of power failure is automatically taken care of. A special motor takes over when the power fails and remains effective for up to 10 hours, according to the spokesman. There are 340 lamps behind the perforated screens of the unit and an electronic brain automatically selects the lamps necessary to show the proper readings.

Seek Federal Employes On Insurance Claims

State Labor Department's Division of Employment is looking for several hundred former federal employes who filed unemployment insurance claims in the past month and were turned away until their terminal leave accruals were used up, it was announced today.

If they are still out of work, these persons are urged to report back to local unemployment insurance offices today or as soon as they can this week. They will be given credit on their claims as of May 16, provided they come in no later than Friday.

The change results from a federal law, effective Monday, permitting separated government employes to apply for benefits as soon as they become unemployed. Until now, claim filings were delayed until the period covered by terminal leave expired.

The change does not apply to persons with benefit years already running nor to ex-servicemen, who must still liquidate terminal leave before claiming unemployment insurance.

Donations Urged For Research in Sclerosis Fight

All desiring to help the multiple sclerosis research program may send donations to Miss Esther Goldman at the Albany Avenue Nursing Home, it was announced today.

The address is 166 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

Miss Goldman, who was stricken some years ago, has been working for the cause from her wheelchair, through the generosity of people who mail contributions which she sends to Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

"I, and all those afflicted deeply appreciate support given the multiple sclerosis drive in the past, and hopefully look forward to their financial aid again for the 1960 campaign being conducted this month," Miss Goldman said.

"It is only through research that we can look forward to helping people afflicted in future years.

"Medical science has a long way to go yet, and much research has to be done if we are to overcome the dread crippler.

"Any amount of help that can be given will be greaty appreciated," said Miss Goldman.

It is difficult for her to even write, but she is busily waging an individual fight in behalf of the research program on multiple sclerosis.

Social Security Reports Outlined

George J. Johnson, manager of the District Office of the Social Security Administration, submits the following article on provisions of the Social Security Law:

Most employers express sincere pride in the part they play in providing social security protection for their employes. They recognize the importance of keeping accurate records of their employees' earnings and the amount of social security taxes they withhold. They understand too that timely reports for each employe must be filed with the Director of Internal Revenue at the end of each calendar quarter.

Not all types of work were covered under the social security law in 1937. For this reason, social security reporting is relatively new to some employers. For example, domestic workers were not covered under social security until 1951. Most agricultural workers also were not covered until 1955. Not all domestic and agricultural employers are, therefore, aware of their responsibilities.

Specific Requirements

The requirements are very specific: All domestic work must be reported if domestics are paid $50 cash or more (by the same employer) in a calendar quarter regardless of the number of days on which the employe worked in that quarter. All work done on a farm for which the worker is paid $150 or more in cash in a year is covered. The farm worker is also covered if he works 20 or more days (for the same employer) during a year for cash wages (figured on a time basis.)

The accuracy of employers' reports cannot be overemphasized. The amount of social security benefits is directly related to the period of employment and the amount of earnings credited to each account.

If certain employers fail to report their employes' earnings or report only part of their earnings, it is impossible for the Social Security Administration to arrive at the true benefit payable. No report could mean no benefits, while incomplete reporting may mean only partial benefits.

If you employ a domestic or an agricultural worker and are not receiving the forms for making the tax reports, ask at your local social security office or your Internal Revenue Service Office.

The Kingston, New York Social Security Office is located at 61 Albany Avenue, and services all of Ulster and Sullivan Counties.

School 7 Staff Of Teachers Is Honored Monday

A Recognition dinner in honor of the teaching staff of School No. 7, was sponsored Monday night by the P-TA of School 7, at the George Washington School cafeteria.

A turkey dinner was prepared and served by the fathers of School No. 7 parents with Myron Schoonmaker as chairman. Nearly 100 guests and parents enjoyed this festive tribute to the dedicated teachers and principal of the school.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Peter Chafemleas. President Robert Ackert introduced the guests. Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of the Kingston School District, (Consolidated), told of the excellent progress the children are making in the classrooms of the competent teachers. He reported that the children have achieved a sixth grade academic level in the past five years of study, a gain of one school year above the expected educational maturity.

As a highlight of the program, Mr. and Mrs. William Rylance presented slides and commentary of their tour of Switzerland. It was like an exciting and wonderful visit to this colorful country, viewers agreed.

This was the first annual Teachers recognition banquet and proved to be an enjoyable social event. Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal on behalf of the staff, expressed appreciation to the parents for their work in a most successful P-TA program.

Belgian composer Cesar Franck, who died in 1890, wrote only one symphony, it in D minor. It is very popular today.

Dissolve Tobacco Tars from Mouth & Throat

New, exclusive relief expressly for smokers

Tobacco tars are deposited on the sensitive membranes of your mouth and throat with every puff of a cigarette, cigar or pipe. To the possible health hazards of these foreign substances introduced into your physical system, are added the personal unpleasantness of a bad tasting mouth, and the offensiveness to others of a bad-smelling breath.

SMOKERS DROPS*, new and medicated relief from Smith Brothers, actually dissolve these gummy irritants. The special "detergent" ingredients in SMOKERS DROPS, protectively and pleasantly, emulsify and remove tobacco tars from these vital tissues. This new product, developed in the modern laboratories of famous Smith Brothers, is the ONLY relief made expressly for smokers.

Why We Say--

A WITNESS: The alias name, "John Doe," came from 14th century England. It was coined after the Magna Charta specified that two witnesses had to sign charges in all criminal action cases. Lawyers used the name, "John Doe," (since no one was listed by that name) as a means of concealing the true identity of a witness.

To Train Peruvians

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Cornell University's Graduate School of Nutrition will train Peruvians under a technical cooperation contract between the United States, Peru and the school.

Dean Richard H. Barnes said Tuesday a group from Cornell will go to the National Institute of Nu...ion in Lima, Peru, in July to complete arrangements for the training, which is expected to take two years.

"Specialists from Cornell will go to Peru for two to four months upon request of the Peruvian government to advise and give aid where it is needed," Barnes said.

Reasons Are Many For Summit Flop

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the skindivers of history probe around in the wreckage of the 1960 summit conference, they'll find lots of reasons why it blew up and sank, more than are known now. But some stick out like barnacles.

For instance: The State Department was a little too clumsy, a little too cute; President Eisenhower helped give Premier Nikita Khrushchev lead for his blackjack; and Khrushchev, whatever his motives, distorted the facts.

First, the department permitted another government agency to say the U2 American spy plane downed over the Soviet Union was on an innocent mission, gathering information on the weather. Then the department denied the plane was spying.

Lies, Then Admission

Both statements were lies. Khrushchev rammed them down America's throat by producing evidence. Then the department got honest and admitted the spying.

This would have been bad enough if the government had just stopped there. It never had to deny, lie or admit anything. All it ever had to do was say it was investigating the case, let the heat die down, and keep its mouth shut.

It didn't. It took one more step, which turned out to be one too many.

It said this government would fail in its reponsibility to the whole free world if it did not do what it considered necessary to obtain information — including spying—to "overcome the danger of surprise attack" by the Soviet Union.

This might have gotten by if the department—actually Secretary of State Christian A. Herter himself—had phrased this in the past tense. Instead, it joggled the language in such a way that it seemed to apply to the future, too.

Was Herter saying such aerial spying would continue? Reporters asked Lincoln White, Herter's chief press officer, that question. White said: "Well, I will leave it to your interpretation."

Press Interpretation

So, the reporters did the interpreting—since they took White's answer to mean yes—and said Herter had indicated the spy flights would continue. All this information — State Department statements and American newspaper interpretations—were available to Khrushchev.

Since the department had had a chance to correct any wrong impression but chose not to, Khrushchev reasonably could assume the aerial spying was meant to continue.

Such an interpretation was an insult to Khrushchev and the Soviets. It meant this country intended to ignore Soviet sovereignty over its own air space and send in spy-planes, no matter how the Soviets felt about it.

Two days later this government had still another chance to say this was an erroneous interpretation—if it thought so. This was when Eisenhower held his news conference last Wednesday.

But he talked in future terms, without actually saying more planes would be sent in over the U.S.S.R. This became one of the things Khrushchev wrapped around Eisenhower's neck when they met at the summit in Paris Monday.

In understanding this it is important to remember no one in this government ever actually said spy flights would continue. But Khrushchev, like the newsmen—and maybe he got his interpretation from the newsmen—interpreted the high-blown State Department statement as meaning the flights would go on.

At the summit, among other things, he demanded Eisenhower call off the flights. Then, to the surprise of a lot of people in the State Department, Eisenhower told Khrushchev the flights had been ordered stopped.

Other Demands

Khrushchev made other demands which Eisenhower couldn't have agreed to without crawling before the whole world. Khrushchev wanted him to apologize for the flight already made and punish those directly responsible for it.

Just how much the State Department statement had to do with inflaming Khrushchev before he got to the summit may not be known for a long time.

But it was one of the things which gave him torpedoes for sinking the conference.

How do you think Eisenhower should have acted at the summit if it had been Khrushchev who had sent spy planes over the United States and had let the impression get out that he'd keep on doing it?

$1.4 Million Is Asked to Improve Lakes' Harbors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has been asked to appropriate $1,435,000 to plan improvements in 20 Great Lakes harbors.

The 16 senators from eight Great Lakes states said the work was needed so that the harbors could handle St. Lawrence seaway shipping.

In a letter to Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday, the senators said they expected Congress would authorize the improvements this year and urged that the money be made available.

Approval of the appropriation for the fiscal year that begins July 1 would speed the harbor improvements by one year, the senators said.

Money normally is not made available for public works projects until the projects are authorized by Congress.

The senators said not one Great Lakes harbor now is able to accomodate a ship loaded to full seaway depth of 27 feet. This deprives commerce and industry of the seaway's full benefit.

Included in the recommended appropriations were $13,000 for planning at Buffalo, N.Y., and $12,000 for planning at Rochester. The Buffalo project is estimated at $2,352,000 and the Rochester work at $2,445,000.

Among the senators signing the letter were Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republicans.

$50 Million Refunds

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Refunds on 1959 income tax returns have passed the 50 million dollar mark, State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy says.

Murphy announced Tuesday that the state had refunded a total of $51,736,335 to 1,976,176 taxpayers. However, the commissioner said the original estimate of refunds totaling 75 million dollars still stood with more than one million refunds still to be made.

Legion Head Urges Shun Travel to Soviet

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Martin B. McKneally of Newburgh, N.Y., national commander of the American Legion, advises Americans to shun travel in Russia because the invitation to President Eisenhower was withdrawn.

McKneally said last night the American-Russian dispute at the summit conference in Paris ended any thought that he would visit Russia.

He added, in a statement, "where the President of the United States is not welcome, no American should deign to go."

The breakup of the summit conference makes one issue clear to the people of the world, he said, "the irreconcilable conflict between freedom and the imperialistic objectives of Communism."

Elect Area Youths To Hudson Unit Of Luther League

Four Ulster County Luther Leagues and one from Dutchess were elected officers of Hudson Conference Luther League at the spring rally held early this week at St. John's Lutheran Church, Hudson.

Charles Pankenier of First Lutheran Church, Poughkeepsie was named president; Patricia Sloboda of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Saugerties, vice president; Ruth Gippert, also of the Saugerties church, corresponding secretary; Judy Terpening of Trinity Lutheran Church, Kingston, recording secretary and Ronald Kirn of Trinity Church, treasurer.

The newly elected officers were installed at the worship service during the conference evening session.

Some 150 young people representing United Lutheran Churches of the Hudson Conference embracing congregations from Hudson to Poughkeepsie heard about life behind the Iron Curtain.

The speaker was the Rev. Rollin Shaffer, assistant executive secretary of Lutheran World Action, which is doing relief and rehabilitation work in 80 countries.

When to Raise Major Suit Bid

BY OSWALD JACOBY
written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the most valuble lessons an aspiring bridge player can learn is that when he can raise his partner's major suit bid, the time to do so is right away and not later on when the bidding may have gotten away from him.

Now take a look at the North hand. Your partner has opened one spade and West has overcalled with two hearts. You have one ace, as your sole high card, but you do have four spades and a singleton heart.

It appears to be the opponents' hand and your first impulse may be to bury your head in the sand like an ostrich and pass. If everyone else passes, the opponents will make two hearts and possibly overtricks, but they don't have to pass.

Suppose East jumps to four hearts. Now you have a real problem. From your hand they probably will make four hearts, but are you going to bid four spades with a hand that you couldn't bid two spades with? Of course not!

Actually, whether you pass or bid two spades, East is going to jump to four hearts, but if you have bid two spades, your partner will surely go to four. He will realize that his hand has little defense, but plenty of attacking possibilities once you have given him a raise.

Of course the swing is terrific. If South takes the trouble to finesse for the king, he will make five spades while all East has to do to make four hearts is to pull trumps as soon as he gets the lead and to concede whatever tricks in the black suits that haven't already been taken by North and South.

The regular monthly meeting of St. John's Rosary-Altar Societey was held at the rectory in Woodstock recently. The Rev. John Nally, a La Salette Missionary from the parish of St. Francis de Sales in Phoenicia was guest speaker. Former Pastor of St. Peter's Celebrates Anniversary; Archbishop of New Orleans

The Most Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, Archbishop of New Orleans, La., celebrates the 25th anniversary of his accession to the See of New Orleans today.

Former pastor of St. Peter's Church, this city, Archbishop Rummel will receive many congratulatory messages today from former parishioners and friends. Among the messages will be a telegram from Mayor Edwin F. Radel which reads:

"As Mayor of the City of Kingston, where you served Christ in the early days of your Priesthood, and as a member of a family leng established in your former home parish of St. Peter's, I could not let this happy day in your life pass without sending this short note of greeting to you.

"Our historic City has witnessed the arrival and departure of many famous people and your years of service and devotion to the Catholic Church in Kingston, yet remembered by many of our present residents, certainly qualifies you among this illustrious group.

"Please accept my sincere congratulations and best wishes on this the 25th anniversary of your accession to the elevation of Archbishop of New Orleans and may you be blessed with good health to serve God for many, many more years."

Ordained in Rome

Archbishop Rummel was ordained in Rome on May 24, 1902 by His Eminence, Cardinal Vicar Respighi. After his return home he was assigned as assistant at St. Joseph's Church, Yorkville, in July of 1903.

Archbishop Rummel was consecrated Bishop of Omaha at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York on May 29, 1928. He was then made Archbishop of New Orleans where he is now located.

When St. Peter's Church in Kingston held its centennial celebration, the following was written about Archbishop Rummel about his work in this city:

MOST REV. JOS. F. RUMMEL

"His enthusiasm was contagious and soon every phase of parish life was functioning efficiently. To know him was to love him. He made friends easily, both inside and outside the Church.

"We were indeed blessed at St. Peter's during his pastorate here; and when he left in April of 1915, at the bequest of his superiors, to enter new fields, his accomplishments in our behalf stood out as a monument to his endeavors. A new parochial school was built in 1911; vast improvements to the cemetery property were made; the formation of a debt-paying association, which ultimately succeeded in wiping out the debt on the church property. He purchased at Innsbruck, Germany, and installed the very beautiful stations of the cross.

In Louisiana His Excellency is following in the footsteps of his Divine Master by strenuously upholding the dignity and rights of his fellowman, the Negro. We are all proud of the fact that he at one time worked among us."

SELLING CHANCES TO GUESTS

Dear Mrs. Post: We had a small gathering of friends at our house last Saturday evening. During the course of the evening, I asked these friends to take chances on a car that was being raffled off by a charitable organization in which I am especially interested. The chances were fifty cents apiece and the friends present could easily have afforded several chances. However, after they left, my husband was furious with me for having asked them to take chances and said that I was taking unfair advantage of our guests. He has made such an issue of this that I am writing to ask if I was really wrong?

Answer: The ability of your guests to afford taking the chances was not the point, and you, as hostess, should not have made it embarrassing for them to refuse the chances they may not have wished to take.

An Almost Inexplicable Rudeness

eDar Mrs. Post: I am a housekeeper and have been for a great many years. The other day a package arrived for the people for whom I work. I was startled to say the least to see on the front of the package in bold letters, "Att. Housekeeper — Do Not Open." I thought this last not only incorrect but a direct insult to me. Wasn't this a most improper way to address a package?

Answer: It seems impossible that anyone could be as rude as the sender of this package seems to be, and there must be some explanation. Perhaps "Do not open" was to have been followed by "Until Mrs. Smith's birthday" etc. and these words then carelessly forgotten.

Privilege of Bringing a Friend

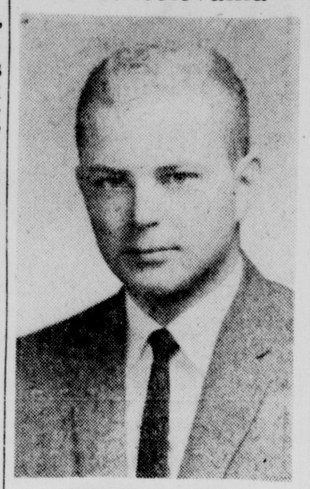

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and both my fiance and I have several unmarried friends whom we would like to invite to the wedding. We would like to give them the privilege of bringing a friend to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be addressed in this situation?

Answer: You address the outside envelope to each of these friends and on the inside envelope write, "Miss Smith and guest."

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet, E-27, entitled, "Afternoon Tea," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Camping Plans Made By Community Center

The Camp Committee of the Jewish Center held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, May 12. The main items of the agenda included a report on camp registrations, counselor recruitment and a presentation of program plans by Lionel Friedman, camp director.

Daniel Balsam, executive director of the Center, reported that registrations were coming in steadily, now that the camp brochure had been sent out. Applications for counselor positions and skill specialists are also being received and are being given careful screening preliminary to acceptance. It was again brought to the attention of the committee, that registrations for the Nursery School Camp Group must be made by May 20.

Lionel Friedman, camp director presented plans for Camp Jay Cee Cee program. Children will be grouped according to age levels for daily activities with additional voluntary groupings several times a week in special skill areas. All campers will have a swimming instruction period, as well as a free swim period daily. Ample time is being alloted for arts and crafts, as well as the performing arts. Plans for special Camp Days and Parents' Days were presented. The overall philosophy of Camp Jay Cee Cee's program is to provide the individual child and the group as much voluntary choice as is possible within the framework of specific activities and a time schedule. A special subcommittee is being set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sidney Sayles to explore the extent of teen-age interest in a special camp group.

This sub-committee will have the responsibility of developing a camp program specific to the interests of teenagers. Lionel Friedman will serve as advisor to the sub-committee and it is expected that there will be representation of teen-agers on the committee.

Mrs. Paul Mezer presided. Attending the meeting were the Mmes. Daniel Balsam, Sidney Halpern, Sherman Kent, Herbert Kletske, Arthur London, Joseph Mautner, Leon Miller, Norman Reamer, Sidney Sayles and Edward Weissman; also Lionel Friedman, camp director and Daniel Balsam, executive director of the Center.

Nurses Association Named Bargaining Agent by Wagner

The New York State Nurses Association today was designated by the City of New York as the exclusive representative in all matters affecting the employment conditions for registered professional nurses in the Department of Hospitals.

Harold A. Felix, Commissioner of Labor of the City of New York, in ceremonies held in his office at 10:30 a. m. presented certificates naming the New York State Nurses Association as exclusive representative to Miss Marion M. Klappmeier, RN, Amsterdam, Associate Executive Director of the nurses professional organization.

Speaking for the Association, Miss Lucille E. Notter, RN, Valley Stream, president of the NYSNA said, "Today's action by the City of New York is a gigantic step forward toward improving patient care. The economic status of the nursing profession must be improved to insure quality nursing care."

Shortly after New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner signed Executive Order No. 49, establishing a program of employe relations, on March 31, 1958, professional nurses were contacted by their professional organization, informing them of the implications this Act held for nurses and stating that the association was prepared to assist them.

On August 27, 1958, the New York State Nurses Association filed applications with the Department of Labor of the City of New York to be designated as collective bargaining representative. Since that time many conferences with nurses and governmental officials have been held, which finally resulted in today's action.

When professional nurses in 1946, acting in the House of Delegates of the American Nurses' Association, adopted an Economic Security Program to improve the economic status of the nursing profession, they imposed restrictions on themselves to insure patients of uninterrupted care of the highest quality. This policy, which voluntarily relinquished the right to strike, is still in effect today. Collective bargaining for nurses through their professional organization assures the public of uninterrupted patient care. Today's action by New York city demonstrates an employer accepting the moral obligation to deal justly with nurses through their authorized professional representative.

The challenge in establishing a good program of labor relations is not alone to New York city, but to many other municipalities which look to New York to take the lead.

Reaction Denotes Age

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gals, don't try to fool Dr. Hans Hahn of Transylvania College. He's likely to learn your age anyhow.

He told a safety conference that the speed of apperception—recognition of objects—slows as a person grows older, and that a woman of 50 who takes his tests needn't claim she is 35.

Her speed of reaction to a flashing red light or buzzer will give her away.

Jaycees Set Teen Road-E-O June 5

The New Paltz Jaycees have announced the annual Safe Driving Teenage Road-E-O will take place Sunday, June 5. The Road-E-O is a program sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the American Trucking Association, Inc., Chrysler Corporation, Pure Oil Company, and the Insurance Institute for highway safety to encourage teenagers to share their responsibility for safe driving on the nation's highways.

Teenagers, who have not been married prior to the National Finals or between the State and National Finals and who can qualify for a driver's license and who have not turned 19 years of age before Aug. 11, 1960, are eligible.

Any boy or girl may participate who has not had a pending charge of or been convicted of a moving traffic violation in the six months prior to the National Finals, which will be in August.

After a participant has won the local competition, he or she is eligible to enter the state level. From there the winner goes on to the national contest. The winners are awarded college scholarships.

Local interested teenagers may receive applications from Junior Chamber of Commerce members, or their local driver education teacher and local stores.

No Signs Noted Soviet Visitors Are Not Welcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to press ahead with its people-to-people exchange program with the Soviet Union despite the blow-up of the summit conference.

The State Department will suspend the program, however, if American public opinion becomes hostile to the idea of welcoming Soviet visitors.

Top officials, watching for repercussions to Nikita Khrushchev's anti-American tirade, reported there was no sign yet that visits by Soviet delegations would be resented.

The officials detected no sign at this time that Americans visiting the Soviet Union under the program would meet with a less-than-friendly treatment. A delegation of American railroad experts is due to leave Thursday for a Soviet tour. Visas for the group have not yet arrived but authorities said this need not be a reflection of cold war tensions.

American delegations occasionally have left for Moscow before visas were provided by the Soviet Embassy. In such cases, visas were picked up en route either at the Soviet Embassy in Paris or in Copenhagen or Helsinki.

The only Soviet visitor now in the United States under the exchange program is Nina V. Popova. She is chairman of the Presidium of the Union of Soviet Societies for Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries.

Union to Take Issue With NLRB In Ship Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The union striking against the Bethlehem Steel Co.'s eight east coast shipyards plans to take issue with some of a National Labor Relations Board examiner's recommendations after 19 days of hearings on a union complaint.

John J. Crogan, president of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said Tuesday he was disappointed by the recommendations filed by Examiner Thomas A. Ricci in Washington Monday.

Grogan ordered that exceptions to parts of the 39-page report be filed with the NLRB.

The board will act later on Ricci's recommendations to it.

Ricci recommended dismissal of the union's basic complaint that the company bargained in bad faith with its shipyard workers.

Ricci also stated that Bethlehem was guilty of "limited unfair labor practice" by insisting that signatures of the persons involved be included in grievance procedures. His recommendations dealt also with other aspects of the dispute.

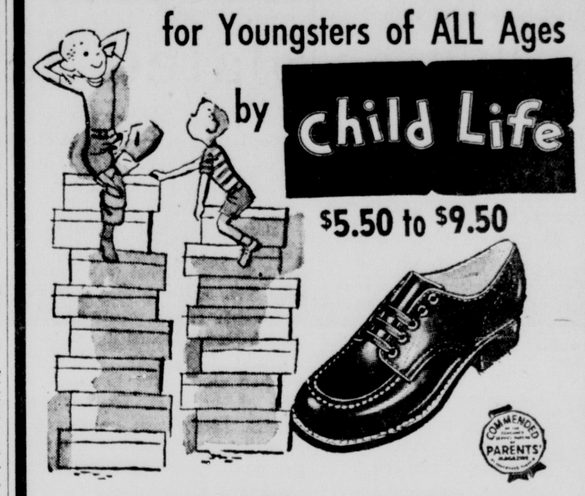

Grogan called Ricci's opinion a "damning indictment of the outrageous character of Bethlehem's demands upon its shipyard employes," and he added:

"We realize that litigation never settled the real issues in a strike. Only good faith collective bargaining can do this."

About 18,000 workers have been idle since the strike started last January at the eight yards in the New York, Boston and Baltimore areas in a dispute over wages, hours, work conditions and other terms for a new contract.

Marlboro Crushes Onteora Central, 14-2, to Stay Unbeaten

Winners Collect 19 Base Knocks In UCAL Contest

Spraying base hits all over the Boiceville diamond, powerful Marlboro Central cruised to a lopsided, 14-2, verdict over Onteora yesterday in a UCAL tilt. The Southern Ulster team is now 6-0 in the circuit and has yet to taste defeat this season.

Billy Hyatt, a promising newcomer, did the hurling for Coach Jack Kroh's belters. He allowed a pair of first inning runs and was then invincible the rest of the journey. He allowed five hits, walked one and struck out six. His mates gave him near flawless support in the field.

Much Moral Support

The visitors pounded out 19 hits with Sam Mandia, Brian White and Hyatt collecting three each. Mandia drove in four runs with his singles. Anthony (call me Tony) Fino had a triple and single while sending home two runners. By the way, this lad has the most moral support on the club. His girl friend is the scorekeeper for Marlboro.

Starter Warren Smith was the loser for the Indians. Jay Gordon relieved him in the third and did a good job the rest of the way.

SHS Varsity Set To Conduct Clinic

Members of the Saugerties High baseball team will conduct two clinics for Little Leaguers this Saturday and on Saturday, May 28. The first clinic will be for the major league teams and the second one for boys playing in the farm system. Both clinics will be at Cantine Field and will be held from 10 a. m. to noon.

Coach Bill Straub and his squad will attempt to give the "future Sawyers" an insight into the basic fundamentals of the game. Receiving special emphasis will be the all important fundamentals of throwing, catching techniques, hitting, base running, fielding and sliding.

After an assembly period the group phase of the clinic will begin. Co-captain Barry Wolven and John Nolan will put the pitchers through their paces. Catchers Bob Francello and Bruce Freligh will aid the Little League backstops.

Infielders Bill Eckhoff and Jim Curley will conduct the infield position of the clinic. Outfield play will be covered by John Hinchey, Mike Dodig and Dan Wilbur. Dick Marelli will work with the first baseman and Sal Ferrine and Mike Fury will conduct the sliding practice. Coach Straub will conduct the hitting clinic.

The SHS coach feels this experience will not only prove to be of value to the Little Leaguers but also to his squad.

New Paltz Nine Scores 9-0 Win Over Highland

New Paltz moved into a second-place deadlock in the UCAL baseball race with a 9-0 shutout of Highland yesterday at the Huguenots' diamond. While the winners collected 11 base hits off losing hurler Fred Ellis, Biff Longfield and Bill Lohrman combined to hold the losers to six safeties.

The Huguenots tallied a run the first time they batted and they put the game out of reach with four run surges in both the third and the fifth innings. Bill and Ken Freer had triples for the winners as did John Keator. Joe Berean hit a double for Highland, which is tied with Onteora in the circuit's basement.

F. Howard Raps Grand Slam

Dodgers Beat Milwaukee, 6-4; Giants, Bucs Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Frank Howard, the latest of the new Babe Ruths, first showed up in the majors they called him "The Thing" and "The Beast." But he's strictly a 6-foot-7, 245-pound thing of beauty for the Los Angeles Dodgers at the moment.

The sometimes temperamental thumper, who couldn't decide whether to pout or clout in spring training, squashed the Dodgers' top nemesis Tuesday night, beating right-hander Bob Buhl and the Milwaukee Braves 6-4 with his first grand slam home run in the National League.

It was Milwaukee's sixth defeat in 10 games and left the third-place Braves just one-game over .500, five lengths back of front-running San Francisco. The Giants shook a run-scoring slump and whipped Cincinnati 9-3, retaining their one-game edge over second-place Pittsburgh. The Pirates defeated Chicago's Cubs 11-6 with the help of six unearned runs. St. Louis at Philadelphia, was rained out.

Sherry Wins It

Howard's third major league homer, first since being recalled from the minors Friday, overhauled a 4-1 Milwaukee lead in a five-run eighth-inning. Larry Sherry (5-3), winning his fourth in a row in relief, also homered in the rally against Buhl (2-2).

Hank Aaron, taking the major league lead with his ninth, and Ed Mathews homered for the Braves' first three runs, off Don Drysdale.

The Giants, matching their run production of the last five games, socked across seven runs in the first three innings. They scored four in the first against young Jim O'Toole (3-3), who had a shutout string of 18 innings. Willie Kirkland, Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda homered as the Giants collected 14 hits after Manager Bill Rigney loaded his line-up with right-handed hitters. Jack Sanford (4-1) was the winner.

The Pirates also got things squared away fast, scoring eight runs in three games and chasing Glen Hobbie (3-4) after a four-run first. Don Hoak had three of their 13 hits and three RBI, bringing in the deciding run with a single in a three-run third. Bob Friend, who lost his first seven a year ago, won his fifth although giving up 11 hits, one Ernie Banks' three-run eighth homer in the first inning.

Reading Nearing Eastern Loop Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Reading Indians have moved to within a half game of the Eastern League lead with a display of explosive power.

The Indians bombed four Binghamton pitchers for 20 hits Tuesday night to defeat the Triplets 21-6, tying a club record for most runs scored in a single game. Reading last scored 21 runs July 15, 1955, at Albany.

Rain washed out the only other two games scheduled—Springfield at Allentown and Lancaster at Williamsport. Reading is now in third place behind Springfield and Williamsport, tied for the lead.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Retail deliveries of Studebaker passenger cars for the 1960 model year are 12.64 per cent above deliveries during the corresponding period a year ago, S. A. Skillman, Studebaker-Packard Corporation vice president and general sales manager, announced today. Deliveries so far this year total 78,219 units as compared to 69,439 a year ago. During the first 10 days of May deliveries totaled 2,938 units, an increase of 15.13 per cent over the first 10 days of April.

Howard, Grand Slam Fellow, Feels Lucky Just to Be Back

By DAVE O'HARA

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frank Howard, a big guy with thunderous power, feels he's lucky just to be back from the minors. The Los Angeles Dodgers are thankful they recalled him.

The strapping 6-foot-6, 245-pound former Ohio State star unloaded a grand slam homer in the eighth inning Tuesday night to boost the Dodgers to a 6-4 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves and Bob Buhl, a long-time nemesis.

"I just hope I'm up here to stay," Howard said modestly after his game-winning crash. "There's so much competition in this game I guess a fellow has to feel lucky just to get to play."

The 23-year-old outfielder-first baseman was recalled last week from Spokane where he hit Pacific Coast League pitching for four homers, 24 RBI and a .371 average in 26 games. He had been farmed out after a spring training in which he got into the doghouse by missing a couple of exhibition games.

"I finally got a hit at the right time," Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston said with a big smile. "We haven't been hitting worth a darn, but the kid came through for us. And he'll collect a lot more."

Buhl, who boasts a 21-9 lifetime record facing the Dodgers, appeared headed for his seventh triumph in two seasons against his "cousins." But Howard apparently hadn't heard about the strong-armed right-hander's past mastery.

Ulster LL Sets Parade Sunday

Town of Ulster League plans its 1960 opening Sunday, May 22, with a parade and ceremonies at the field at the Chambers School.

Ed Palladino, of The Freeman sports staff, will be the principal speaker. Town Supervisor Alexander Banyc will throw out the first ball.

The parade line will be from the city line to Albany Avenue Extension, thence to the Chambers School where the Ulster LL field is located. Musicians Local 215 of Kingston will donate music for the parade. The parade forms at 1 p. m., with start at 1:30 p. m.

All teams will parade colorful symbols. The Ulster Business Association will have a float representing the Indians, pennant winners in 1959 and Ulster Kiwanis Club will have a float representing the Yankees.

Official league play starts on Monday, May 23, at 6:15 p. m., with the Dodgers meeting the Tigers.

All fathers with a boy in the league are invited to visit the field each evening and on Saturday to help get the diamond in shape for the opener. Saturday is a full work day.

SaVino Pitches A Four-Hitter; Eckhoff Homers

While Mickey SaVino was stifling the Saugerties batters with four scattered hits, Arlington High batsmen tore into three Sawyer hurlers for 10 safeties as the Maroon romped to a 10-1 DCSL decision yesterday at the Poughkeepsie diamond.

The loss dropped Saugerties out of contention for the circuit title while Arlington can move into a tie for the lead with a decision over Wappingers Falls on Friday.

SaVino, who shoots baskets in the winter, was in complete control this time around. He had a shutout until the sixth when losing pitcher Billy Eckhoff rapped a home run. Mickey was lifted in the seventh so Tom Hanaburg, a highly touted freshman, could mop up. He did it with ease.

Winners Score Early

Arlington jumped on Eckhoff for single runs in the first and second innings and for another in the fourth. The home side knocked Billy from the hill in the fifth and reliever Barry Wolven was treated even worse. Mike Fury had to finish up.

SaVino and Bill McRitchie slammed triples for Fritz Jordan's nine while Larry Weisbeg had two doubles. Wolven had a two base hit for the Sawyers.

Saugerties is scheduled to play Kingston High at Cantine Field this afternoon, weather permitting.

White Sox Are Happy at Home

Win Over Bosox Is 7th Straight Victory at Home

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no place like home for those Chicago White Sox, who are as yet unbeaten in Comiskey Park.

The defending American League champs popped back into first place with their seventh straight home victory Tuesday night, buffeting Boston 11-6. They did it with 14 hits off Tom Brewer, the right-hander who blanked them on two hits a week ago in Boston.

Kansas City helped by defeating Baltimore 4-2, ending the Birds' one-day stay on top and clipping their winning streak at five games. The loss dropped Baltimore to third, a half-game behind and in a virtual tie with Cleveland for second place. The Indians dropped New York to fourth 7-6, Detroit plunked Washington into the cellar 3-1.

The White Sox tagged the Red Sox with their fourth straight defeat in a four-run fifth, scoring three on Sammy Esposito's bases-loaded double. Esposito, who came in batting .100, was 2-for-3 and drove in four runs against Brewer (2-3). Bob Shaw (3-2) won it.

A two-run homer by Whitey Herzog broke up a 2-2 tie in the seventh for the A's, who had been held to three hits for six innings by loser Milt Pappas (2-3). Leo Kiely (1-0) won it with 2 1-3 innings of hitless relief, although he forced in the tying run in the seventh when he hit Clint Courtney with the bases loaded.

The Indians packed away seven of their 12 hits in the first two innings, chasing rookie Bill Short (2-2) with five runs in that span. They got the clincher in the sixth when reliever Duke Maas hit winner Gray Bell (5-1) and then gave up a two-out double by Jimmy Piersall. Bell, first to win five in the AL, needed Dick Stigman's one-out relief for his fourth straight victory after the Yankees scored four unearned runs in the ninth. Mickey Mantle's third homer brought in three of them.

Detroit sent Pete Ramos (0-5) to his seventh consecutive loss since last September when Norm Cash doubled and Chico Fernandez tripled for a second-inning run and a 2-0 lead. Frank Lary (3-2) won his second in a row, both over the Nats.

Furillo Plans Legal Action After His Release by Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) —"I'll let my attorney do the talking from here on," said a bitter Carl Furillo, one of the last of the Dodger old guard.

After 14 full seasons, the Dodgers and the veteran outfielder parted company on a sour note Tuesday. Furillo, claiming he has been betrayed, said he plans an appeal today to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

"I was hurt with the club (running to first May 2 against Cincinnati) and should have been put on the disabled list," said 38-year-old Furillo, sidelined most of this season with a gimpy right leg.

"I tried to get him on the disabled list but the commissioner wouldn't go for it," said Buzzie Bavasi, vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles baseball club. "I had no alternative but to release him."

"I called Carl on the way to San Francisco (last week) and told him I would find him a good job in the organization," Bavasi said. "But that doesn't go anymore, after what he's done to this club."

Furillo's attorney, Arnold Cowan, said cutting Furillo was "just an economy move, a method of saving money." Furillo was paid $7,000 on his $30,000-plus contract.

Furillo, who started in baseball 20 years ago as an $80-a month outfielder for Pocomoke City in the Eastern Shore League, was bumped off the Dodgers by big Frank Howard, a $108,000 bonus baby from Ohio State.

Furillo came up to the Dodgers in 1946.

Phillies and Cards Are Talking Trades

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — General Managers John Quinn of Philadelphia and Bing Devine of St. Louis held a conference Tuesday night shortly after the clubs were rained out and some observers felt a trade might be in the making.

"I'm always interested in a trade," Devine told newsmen. "But frankly the deal you fellows made with the Cubs sort of weakened our chances. About all we could do now in the way of pitching would be to trade pitcher for pitcher."

The names of pitcher Jim Owens and outfielder Harry Anderson of the Phillies popped up in the trade talk as did those of Cardinals' pitchers Vinegar Bend Mizell and Marshall Bridges and infielder Dick Gray.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gene Mauch, the energetic young manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been fined $100 and reprimanded for his part in last Sunday's free-for-all with Cincinnati in the first game of a double-header at Crosley Field.

Shortly before a steady rain forced postponementt of the Phillies game against St. Louis Tuesday night, Mauch received word of the fine and the reprimand from Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Mauch was the only principle in the fracas who was fined.

The big rub golf equipment manufacturers are running into with the super-stars who endorse their products: most of the smart touring professionals insist on clauses making the companies match their winning . . . which can come to quite a bundle when you're in the upper strata . . . one old star almost shot his sponsors broke. . . .

The biggest problem Gene Mauch, the young, effervescent skipper of the Phillies, had to overcome in his early managerial days was himself. . . . It got so in Atlanta that after the Crackers had blown a pennant, one writer told him, "I'm glad we didn't win. We never could have lived with you then." . . .

The idea has gotten around that Gerry Staley found out how to win at 40 by suddenly mastering the sinker . . . but actually the super-annuated reliever of the White Sox was tossing some warm-up pitches at Columbus one day in 1947 (that's 13 years ago, son) . . . and just for kicks he let a few go three-quarter arm instead of his normal overhand motion. . . . "Hey, what the blank are you doing?" yelled the catcher, pawing at the elusive ball. . . . Seems it was sinking naturally . . . which is how Gerry's been throwing since. . . .

Gene Mauch

Jerry Barber, the tiny-mite blaster who won Las Vegas (the Tournament of Champions), spends more time on the practice tees and greens than any golfer in the game . . . goes around squeezing rubber balls in his hands to strengthen them and substitute arm strength for lack of size. . . .

Ingo-isms: Guy said to the champion, "What's the matter with Archie Moore? Think he's too old for you?" . . . and Johansson pointed, "He may be older than that man there." . . . who happened to be Jens Johansson, age 53—the Swede's pop. . . . There was an added line to Ingo's crack about Sonny Liston: "Who's he? A baseball player?" . . . "A pretty good hitter, too," said a voice in the crowd. . . .

That deep blush on Don Drysdale is from hearing other dugouts growl at him, "G-r-r-r, you gotta be mean." . . . the scoop of his latest ghosted opus on how to survive in the big league pitching jungle. . . .

Opinions: Zora Folley has the style to beat Sonny Liston if their match ever comes off. . . . Fred (Freudian Father Image) Hutchinson is the most popular skipper in the majors, with his own players. . . . Paolo Rosi Meets Perkins Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Paolo Rosi, the hard-hiting Italian who fights out of New York City, hopes to earn another lightweight title shot in his 10-round bout with Eddie Perkins in Chicago Stadium tonight.

Rosi, who has lost only one bout since 1957, will be a heavy favorite to stop Chicagoan Perkins.

The nationally televised bout (ABC-9 EST) will be scored on the five-point must system, the winner getting five points for a round and the loser any lesser number.

Rosi's only loss in three years was to champion Joe Brown in a title match. Brown was awarded a nine-round TKO after opening cuts around Rosi's eyes.

Rosi has scored 16 knockouts in his 19 victories and has been stopped only three times.

Perkins has 12 victories in 18 professional fights.

Sam Snead Golf Starts Thursday

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Sam Snead starts playing his usual inhospitable golf host Thursday.

The occasion is the 13th annual tournament on the course where he's been pro for 24 years.

Snead won three of the first nine tourneys and was second three times more to hog the dough. Four years ago, his sponsors renamed the 72-hole tournament in his honor, the Sam Snead Festival.

Snead moderately finished in a tie for second. But he reverted to his natural talents and won the past two.

Last year, Snead took only 59 strokes in his third round and 63 on his final for a total 259, 21 strokes better than the par 70 course. It left his nearest pursuer, Mike Souchak, wallowing 11 strokes in the dust.

Souchak is coming back for another crack. He will be joined by 62 other pros.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — (NEA)—Art Lewis, recently resigned head football coach at West Virginia, was once a top preparatory prospect for Ohio State, but went to Ohio University.

While attending a coaching clinic at Ohio State years later, he recalled, Lewis went with Buckeye scout Ernie Godfrey, who had tried to land Lewis from high school, to a room with walls lined with photographs of famous Ohio State players.

"Art," said Godfrey, "if you had listened to me and come here your picture might be hanging there."

"Have you ever been in the gymnasium at Ohio U?" Lewis inquired.

Godfrey said he had not.

"Well, go some time," Lewis urged, and look at the wall.

"You'll find only one picture and that's me.

Roosevelt Judges Suspend Drivers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Drivers Jacques Grenier and Robert Walker are barred from harness racing at Roosevelt Raceway until after Saturday night.

The judges of Roosevelt Raceway suspended the two Tuesday for five racing nights, May 17 to May 21.

Grenier was set down for interfering with George Phalen's Joey N while driving Scotch Kate in Monday night's ninth race.

Walker's suspension resulted from an incident involving a horse driven by Phalen in the sixth race. Walker's Noble Dream veered in front of Phalen's A.C. Havens and caused A.C. Havens to break.

Phalen was fined $50 for failing to report the interference by Grenier to the judges. Phalen did report the Walker incident, which occurred in the sixth race.

Tuesday night Silent Dream, driven by Hugh Bell, won the $5,000 Terrell pace by a head at Roosevelt. Meadow Dolly was second and Gene Ike finished third. Silent Dream covered the mile in 2:05 and paid $7.20.

At Buffalo Raceway, Shanahan, driven by Bud Gilmour, won the Class B-2 pace in 2:08 4-5. James Abbe was second and Baldwin Hanover finished third. Shanahan paid $4.20.

Nixon Confident People Will Back Ike on Policies

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he is confident the American people will back President Eisenhower if the Democrats investigate administration policies and actions preceding the torpedoed summit conference.

Nixon took notice at a breakfast news conference of statements by some Democratic congressional leaders that there should be an investigation of administration "blunders" that may have led to the collapse of the Paris talks.

Open to Investigation

Nixon said he believed Eisenhower had taken proper action in calling off further U-2 spy-plane flights. He said that, if the Democrats believed this country was improperly engaging in this intelligence activity, they were welcome to investigate it.

"If they believe we should have allowed a gap in intelligence then they should investigate it," Nixon declared. "If they believe President Eisenhower should have apologized to Premier Khrushchev for the U-2 incident, then let them investigate.

"I believe the people are with us on this matter."

Nixon was asked what this country's reaction would be if the Russians should sentence Francis Powers, pilot of the U-2 plane, to death. The vice president replied that any such action obviously would make it necessary for the U. S. to reconsider policies it has had with regard to Soviet spies who have been arrested. There was no elaboration of this point.

Reckless to Continue

Nixon said Eisenhower's decision to halt further U-2 plane flights had been made not only from a diplomatic standpoint but because of the type of activity involved. Once an intelligence activity has been compromised, he said, it has to be abandoned. He added that it would have been reckless to continue U-2 flights.

Nixon gave these responses in connection with a reporter's statement that Sen. Styles Bridges (Rd NH) and others had urged that the flights be resumed.

The vice president is laying the groundwork to ask the voters to elect him president as the man best qualified to deal firmly with Khrushchev.

Nixon reacted swiftly to the collapse of the summit conference on a brief campaign excursion into New York State. With hopes dimmed for early progress toward peace, he clothed himself in the armor of an aggressive champion of the free world.

Crowd Cheers Him

In this vein, the vice president told a cheering crowd at a dinner in honor of Rep. John Taber (R-NY) in Auburn Tuesday night that the country is going to need not only strong and determined leadership in the presidency but moral and economic stamina on the part of the people.

In response to questions at a news conference, Nixon said he did not rule out Gov. Rockefeller as a possible contender for the presidency.

But Nixon left no doubt he thought he, himself, was just the man to take on Khrushchev, an antagonist he said would test the best the west has to offer.

"I know this man reasonably well," he said. "He is very astute. He is quick on the trigger. He thinks things through cooly and objectively and more often than not he uses his temper rather than loses it."

The way to deal with the Soviet premier, Nixon said, is to "make it clear that surrender of the rights of the free people is too high a price to pay for a settlement with the Soviet Union."

Problems for Premier

Nixon said Khrushchev has problems of his own. He said these may include pressure from Russian Stalinists and Chinese Communists who want no relaxation of world tension.

"He also knows the catastrophe that might come if he presses the West to the point of no return," Nixon added.

In a day in which he traveled, acted, and was greeted like a candidate already nominated by his party for the presidency, Nixon defended on every possible occasion Eisenhower's role in the long-heralded summit meeting that flopped before it officially started.

Nixon got a rousing cheer from a Syracuse Airport crowd, which included many school children, when he said "all of us can be very proud of the way the President has represented us at the conference."

On the domestic front, Nixon handled his obviously distant relations with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller with kid gloves.

He told an Auburn news conference that the governor, as a top political leader of the country, "is always a possibility for the presidency."

He said he thought Rockefeller "was responsible and forthright" in announcing he would not attend the Chicago nominating convention because he did not want to become the vice presidential nominee.

Rocky Sends Message

Nixon added he accepts as final Rockefeller's decision he won't take second place on the ticket.

On his part, Rockefeller sent a message expressing regret he could not attend the dinner for Taber because of the recent death of his father. But he passed along his "warm regards" for Nixon.

"I know all New Yorkers join in extending a cordial welcome to him," Rockefeller said. "We are happy he has come to visit us and hope he will come back as often as possible."

L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman who recently urged Rockefeller to keep himself available for the presidential nomination, was on hand to take a bow at the Taber dinner.

Saugerties Town Board at a special meeting Tuesday approved the purchase of an International tractor equipped with milling machine for $2,390. Delivery is expected within two weeks.

The purchase was made through a Ulster County Highway Department bid.

Memorial Day Speaker Spent Childhood Here

The announcement early this week that Rear Admiral Earle C. Hawk, U. S. Navy, Retired, would be the principal speaker at the annual Memorial Day ceremonies at the Saugerties Main Street School grounds conducted by Lamouree-Hackett Post No. 72, American Legion. May 30, brought back many memories for older Saugerties residents and added a touch of local personal interest to the annual program.

Many local residents are acquainted with Earle C. Hawk. In fact, many of them were his boyhood friends and schoolmates and many Saugerties residents followed his movements through the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and later while climbing the ranks in the U. S. Navy to the position of rear admiral he held at the time of his retirement. To many new residents, Adm. Hawk is just a name, but the American Legion Post invites all his old friends and new residents to pay Adm. Hawk a "home town" tribute at the Memorial Day parade and cermonies.

The name of Adm. Hawk first appeared on the Saugerties scene in 1914—the year that his father came to Saugerties to be "keeper of the light" at the Saugerties Lighthouse on the Hudson at the mouth of Esopus Creek. Here Adm. Hawk spent his Saugerties school days with his father and mother and one sister—Ilah, graduating from Saugerties High School in 1923.

The U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis was his next stop and here he became the first Saugerties boy to enter the Naval Academy. Upon his graduation in 1928, he returned to Annapolis for two years of post graduate work and then entered the U. S. Submarine Service.

Submarines were destined to play a major part in Adm. Hawk's Navy career and by 1937 he was in command of the S-41 and later the S-39 while doing duty along the coast of China. The year 1940 found Adm. Hawk back at New, London, Conn., to take command of the new sub, Tauog, and he was at this location when war came on December 7, 1941.

Transferred to Panama, he was put in command of the sub S-26 for patrol duty along the western coast of the U. S. Later in 1942 he was in command of the sub Pom Pom and 1943 found him operating in the southwest Pacific from Australia bases under command of General Douglas MacArthur — who was then supreme commander of all land and sea forces at the time. When Japan surrendered, Adm. Hawk was a division commander of a submarine fleet operating out of Guam. After a tour of duty in Japanese waters he returned his submarine to the U. S. for demobilization.

From 1946 to 1949 Adm. Hawk saw duty with the Naval Inspection Services at Boston. In 1950 he was named commissioner of the U. S. Naval Computing Laroratory in Minneapolis where research work was done for the U. S. Navy. After fleet duty at Norfolk, Va. he was named Naval Chief of Staff of the Military Mission to Turkey. Then came his final tour of duty in 1955 as Commander of the Naval Ammunition Depot at Red Bank, N. J. until his retirement in 1958. In 1959 Admiral Hawk was back attending Purdue University Graduate School of Mathematics and at the present time he is a member of the faculty of the New Paltz State Teachers College at New Paltz.

Admiral Hawk is married to the former Margaret Lynch of Saugerties and they are the parents of two children. A daughter, Mrs. Jack Elston, lives in Minneapolis, a son, Earle E. Hawk Jr., is a senior at the University of Minneapolis. Admiral Hawk plans to make Saugerties again his "home town" during the summer and his future plans call for a permanent home here.

After a discussion moderated by Charles Rice, a vote will be taken to determine whether or not P-TA members wish to support the bond issue. Onteora Band Gets Highest Rating in State Competition

The Onteora Central High School band has been notified it received the highest rating that may be attained in New York State at the Music Competition held on Friday, May 13, at Hastings on the Hudson.

The 65-piece band, under the direction of Harry Simon, received an A rating in Grade Six music. The annual competition is sponsored by the New York State School Music Association.

This marks the third consecutive year that the Onteora Symphonic Band has attained the highest possible rating in the state.

The rating plan used in adjudicating bands, as presented in the New York State School Music Association Manuals, is as follows: "Grade six music is intended for organizations of symphonic caliber. Music in grade six will meet the standards expected from the largest schools in the State with the largest enrollments. This grade is recommended for schools with excellent music organizations. "A" is to be considered an outstanding performance. Selected music is divided into six grade levels. For each grade of music, a group may receive an A, B, C, or D. The highest any group can possibly receive is "A" in grade six music."

Judges at the Hastings Competition were Dr. Harry Lincoln, Director of Music at Harper College and Rufus Kern, director of Music in the Huntington, Long Island School System, and Frank Mambelli was the New York State School Music Association Representative.

The Onteora Symphonic Band played "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss; "Psalm" by Venceni Persichetti; and the "Charter Oak March."

The band was marked in thirty-six different categories and received the remarkable sum of thirty "A's" out of a possible total of thirty-six.

Some of the comments made by the adjudicators about the march were: "A very fine performance — played with style and precision — very musical — a relief to hear the reed section for the first time today — it is a pleasure to hear balanced tone and to hear subtle dynamic shading — delighted to hear the flutes in tune in upper register."

The judges had this to say on "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss — It is obvious you feel and understand this famous work — very fine baritone horn and trombone sound —bravo to the piccolo player for good intonation — excellent balance — a fine job on a difficult number — this selection takes a great deal of understanding and musical maturity to make it come off, and it did! — very nice oboe and flute — this band listens for intonation — keep it up — a well trained band doing good music well!

About the final number, this is what they had to say — "This music is hard to play and hard to understand. However, your band feels it and plays it very well — the phrasing was excellent — as the teacher of a college course in "modern music" I'm very pleased to hear a group perform this number so well — a fine band and performance.

The adjudicators comments to the director, Harry Simon, are as follows: An excellent job — the conductor is responsible for this fine group — congratulations to a fine conductor, teacher and musician.

In May of 1958, the Onteora Band gained State-wide attention for making New York State Music Association history. The organization was lauded by Dr. Joseph Saetveit, head of the New York State Music Education Department in Albany, New York. The band was the first in New York State, only six years in existence to receive the highest rating possible in New York State.

Resolution Due For Monies for OCS Libraries

Upon advice of the school district's attorney, Vincent G. Connelly of Kingston, the Onteora Board of Education has voted to submit library contracts as a separate resolution at the annual meeting in July.

Connelly advised the Board that appropriations may be made to registered libraries in the district only if it is submitted to the voters by resolution. This will be a special appropriation item outside the budget.

The decision and formal vote to effect the resolution climaxes several months of discussion by the board. It stemmed from an original request by the Woodstock Library for continuation of the $200 annual subsidy made by former Woodstock District No. 2 school before it was annexed by Onteora.

Under the resolution all libraries in the district that can qualify for the subsidies will be granted them on a formula to be announced later.

Attorney Connelly also told the board it could enter into a contract with the libraries, if it desired to do so.

Commencement Speaker

The possibility that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt might be the commencement speaker was raised by Trustee Harry Allen, who said he would have definite word by the end of the week.

Mrs. Roosevelt's name entered the discussion when Principal William H. Deming, said he had not yet received a definite commitment from Dr. Walter Crewson of the State Education Department.

Trustee Marie Kleine reporting for the furniture committee said she had received word from Raisner and Diamond, architects, that they would be unable to forward proposed furniture bids as originally intended. The board then voted to re-advertise for bids on May 19, May 26 and June 2, with opening of bids on Monday, June 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Principal Deming reported progress on the annual report publication and outlined some of the material that would appear in the first issue of the publication.

Paul deBruyn, superintendent of buildings, reported to the board that he has requested estimates from eight contractors, and four plumbers for main building renovations.

Raymond Bell, district bus driver who has been on leave because of illness, sent the Board a letter expressing his thanks for their consideration.

Applications for jobs were received from Manuel Torres of New York City as head custodian, Irene Shultis, an OCS student for clerical work; and Mrs. Ruth Swenson as collector.

The board also took preliminary steps to sell rural school buildings at Shady and Samsonville, which can be sold without auction if they have been abandoned for more than five years. A meeting will also be arranged with taxpayers in Morgan Hill. The school there has been in the district three years.

Hearn Is Soloist

George Hearn, whose fine baritone solo delighted the Easter attendance at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, will sing again on Rogation Sunday, May 22, at the 10 a. m. service. Mr. Hearn will be accompanied by Mrs. Hearn at the organ.

Hearing Planned On Telephone Tax

A public hearing to determine opinion in the Onteora Central Schools District on the subject of the federal telephone tax has been set for Tuesday, May 31, at 8 p. m. in the main building at Boiceville.

The meeting is the outgrowth of a combined meeting of Ulster County school boards in Kingston on May 11 at which steps were taken to qualify for the telephone tax as added revenues for school districts if the federal government drops the tax in June.

Although a public hearing on the proposal is needed, it is not mandatory to accept the opinion expressed at the hearing.

Some county boards already have taken a stand on the tax issue and when boards representing 51 per cent of the enrolled children in the county have given approval all other districts are taken in.

Onteora's share of the tax would be $29,000, but at the meeting in Kingston board representatives were exhorted to contact their legislators and emphasize that the telephone tax is not the answer to the problem of mounting school costs. It is just a contribution.

Trustee Harry Allen of OCS is a member of the four-man committee co-ordinating the county program. Others are Kevin Reynolds, Rondout Valley; Jack Lowther, Saugerties; and Ben Miller, Ellenville.

Salary Schedule Adopted by OCS

Onteora Board of Education adopted a salary schedule for custodial, cafeteria and administrative personnel in a combined regular meeting and executive session this week.

The custodial salary schedule was adopted on the third roll call vote, after proposals submitted by the salary committee and the administration had been voted down. The compromise measure contained features included in both proposals.

The old salary schedule was retained, with the stepups ranging from $3100 to $3950. Guglielmetti Bartholomew was designated as full time maintenance mechanic at a salary of $4350. His chief duties will be in the main building and he will be available for overtime work as a bus driver.

The board retained the 44-hour week and voted to appoint two new custodians for the Reginald R. Bennett school and one for the main building for night duty.

Raise in Salary

The salary of Paul deBruyn, superintendent of buildings, was raised $600 to a figure of $6700, with the stipulation that he not be paid any overtime.

A 5 to 3 vote defeated a motion to accept the formula submitted by the salary committee of Trustees Marie Kleine, Arthur P. Knight and Edward West. Negative votes were cast by Trustees John Aalto, Harry Allen, Albert Fox, Philip Gordon and Anne Larys.

The second formula offered by the administration was defeated by a4-3 vote, as Trustees Allen Kleine, West and Knight cast negative votes. Trustees Aalto, Fox and Gordon voted for the formula and Trustee Larys abstained. The compromise measure was then hammered out and accepted by a majority vote.

The cafeteria salary schedule was approved based on a stepup from a $2100, with the exception of Mrs. Somerville who was voted a $150 increase in salary and designated as head cook.

Foundation Meeting

An important meeting of the Woodstock Foundation is scheduled today at 5 p. m. at the Guild Gallery in Woodstock. New directors will be elected and preliminary plans made for the annual production.

He is graduating from New Brunswick Seminary in June and will be associate minister of the First Reformed Church in Albany, N. Y. The title of his sermon will be "The Pharisee and the Publican." A nursery is provided for the care of small children.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All women interested in the church are cordially invited to attend.

The Women's Guild for Christian Service will hold a food sale on Saturday, May 28, in front of the church beginning at 10 a. m. More details will be announced later.

The first Christian Endeavor "Lawn Market" held last Saturday was so successful that the young people will hold another one this Saturday, May 21, from 10 until 2 on the Village Green. The proceeds from these sales will be used for the expenses of any of the members who wish to attend the Christian Endeavor Citizenship Convocation to be held at Ottawa, Canada, over the July 4th weekend.

Christian Science Services on Sunday

Man's age-old longing for a clearer understanding of God and of his own identity is a central theme of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services in Woodstock Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Soul and Body" will include the following from Isaiah (55:6): "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states in part (428:8): "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God.' "

The Golden Text is from Psalms (84:2): "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Rudisill Leads Poster Contest By Garden Club

Richard Rudisill has been named winner of first prize of $5 in the 1960 Clean Up Poster Contest sponsored by the Woodstock Garden Club.

Louise Todd won second prize of $3 and Harry Miller and Barbara Carlson won third prizes of $2 each. Posters were painted by the fifth and sixth grade pupils of the Woodstock school under the direction of Lillian Lent.

The winning posters with others entered in the competition will be displayed in the shops of the local business men who wish to cooperate in this effort to make Woodstock a cleaner and more attractive town.

Rhinebeck Man Faces Charges

A 53-year-old Rhinebeck factory owner is on trial in Dutchess County court at Poughkeepsie on morals charges involving two 15-year-old boys. He is Bernard Goetz.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Winne told the jury Tuesday that the prosecution would prove the defendant placed the two boys "in a situation where their morals were likely to be impaired."

Winne said the jurors would hear evidence that "is shocking." Goetz was indicted on charges of endangering the life and health of the two boys, and third degree assault.

The first witness called by the prosecution after the jury was seated was, David Francis Mitchell, 15, Van Keuren Lane, Rhinebeck. Winne identified the other boy as Austin Fetzer, also 15, of Rhinbeck.

The trial jury comprises nine men and three women. The indictment lists 12 counts.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, May 10, it was decided not to hold the summer carnival this year.

Tentative plans were made for the company to participate in the Memorial Day parade locally, and also to attend the Ulster County Firemen's Association annual convention parade July 30 in Kingston.

It was announced that a special meeting of the fire company will be held Thursday, May 26, for the explicit purpose of discussing the new proposed by-laws which will be voted upon at the June 14 meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting, which will start at 8 p. m.

Fire drills are held locally under the supervision of fireline officers each Thursday evening, starting at 6:30 p. m. The company participated in the Town of Rosendale Firemen's Association drill Sunday at Bloomington.

A number of volunteer firemen from the Rifton Volunteer Fire Company were guests of the local company following the regular business session.

Chief Robert Waddell reported that during the past month there were two brush fires, one house fire, and one mutual aid call. He commended the local volunteers on the good work done at the time of the fire in the home of John VanGonsic.

What are monkeys most interested in? Experimenters once rigged up a box with a door that could be opened by the monkey within whenever he wanted to see what was going on in the world. Judging by the number of times the door was opened, the monkeys were most eager to see fellow monkeys. A toy train ran a close second as an attention-getter. The monkeys seldom bothered to peek out at non-moving objects. Which is probably the way most human beings would react!

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON

WE GET A TAX CUT

Did'ja notice Congress has passed a bill to cut taxes? Yes, sir! The people's friend has heard the people's voice, and nobly has it responded.

Congress took "aromatic cachous" off the list of toilet articles that pay a 10 per cent excise tax. As is well known, "cachous," pronounce it the way you sneeze, are pills for sweetening the breath.

E. F. Hutton

Good old Congress! I'm told that the only aromatic cachou on the market is Sen Sen. Nevertheless, this tax cut will save Sen Sen smellers several cents a year.

Seeing as how the budget is, I never thought Congress would do it, but no Congressman can overlook the Sen Sen vote.

This will be a big help to Congressmen running for reelection. For every time a Congressman smells a Sen Sen constituent, he can poke him in the ribs and say, "Why, hello, my valued friend. How's the Mrs. and your second cousin who had the heaves a year ago?

"I can tell how much you appreciate my vote on aromatic cachous. I use 'em m'self. With the money I saved you, it will be easy for you to pay your share of the cost of the new Senate and House Office Buildings.

"So don't forget me; come November. If the Gov'ment can't take care of its people, what's a gov'ment for, I say.

"As your Congressman, I vote for all appropriations and against all taxes. Right?"

New President Elected

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) — The Route 17 Assn. has a new president and plans for expanding his namesake.

E. S. Underhill III of Corning was elected president of the highway group Tuesday at a meeting here.

J. Burch McMorran, State Public Works Superintendent, told the meeting that contracts for rebuilding of the 400 mile highway were being awarded at the rate of 13 million dollars a year.

McMorran said by late summer 120 miles of the road will have been rebuilt or under re-construction.

Carl M. Beery of Elmira was elected vice president and Benjamin Kaplin of Monticello was elected treasurer.

Pickets at One Pier

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A longshoremen's local, seeking recognition from a steamship company, maintained pickets at one pier here today.

Local 298, International Longshoremen's Assn. wants union recognition from the International Steamship Inc., lessee of the Buffalo Port Terminal.

The walkout is not directly affiliated to that at other Great Lakes ports.

Buffalo's Templeton terminal is unaffected. The ILA and the stevedoring concern there have a bargaining agreement. Strikes at other ports involve wage disputes.

Most general cargo is handled at the struck terminal.

Kennedy in Lead But Still Lacks Mich. Majority

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts is far ahead of any other Democratic presidential possibility but probably lacks a majority of Michigan's 51 nominating votes, an Associated Press poll showed today.

The poll indicated considerable indecision among delegates to the party's national convention. It reflected a fairly strong undertow for Adlai E. Stevenson, party standard bearer in 1952 and 1956.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri found some favor, but trailed Kennedy in roughly a ratio of 1 to 3. Former Gov. Chester G. Bowles of Connecticut was mentioned by a few delegates.

The Michigan delegation, with the seventh largest bloc of votes at the Los Angeles convention in July, is committed to Gov. G. Mennen Williams as a favorite son until released by him.

Of the state's 102 delegates, each with one-half vote, 49 responded to a questionnaire asking their preference for president after Williams releases the delegation.

Twenty—or just over 40 per cent—named Kennedy, eight named Stevenson, six chose Symington and two picked Bowles.

On the basis of a mention either as a first or second preference, Kennedy drew 26 votes, counting six seconds, and Stevenson 23, counting 15 seconds.

Sees Brothers Drown

GALENA, Kan. (AP) — Tony Reavis, 12, watched and wept as his two brothers, Tommy, his twin, and Eddie, 8, drowned Tuesday.

"I had hold of them once," Tony cried, "but I couldn't hang on."

The boys had been playing around an abandoned lead mine shaft. Tony crawled through a cave to water level at the foot of the shaft.

Throwing rocks at him from above, Tommy and Eddie slipped and fell 33 feet into six feet of water.

Keating Disclaims Boon for Veep Job

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) today disclaimed any knowledge of a reported move among New York GOP county chairmen to nominate him as a favorite-son candidate for vice president.

"I never heard of it," he said, "and no one has been in touch with me about it."

The movement reportedly originated in Monroe County, Keating's home, and his supporters there have been rounding up support in other counties.

Decision Up to Rocky

The Republican State Committee has not officially recognized the movement. New York's delegates to the GOP national convention in July will be selected at the June 7 primary election.

Keating, in an interview, reiterated that he is not a candidate for vice president. But he left the door open for tossing his hat into the ring later.

He said the final decision is up to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

"If Gov. Rockefeller were to come up to me and say he and the state chairman (L. Hudson Morhouse) would like to advance my name that would be time enough to consider this problem," Keating said, adding:

"But it has not happened and there is no reason to believe that it will."

Keating said he did learn that the Monroe County GOP committee supported him for the vice presidential nomination but only after action had been taken.

Heartening Anyway

"If I had known beforehand what they intended to do, I would have insisted against it," Keating said. He added, however, it was "very heartening" to know he has friends.

Keating said he would never do anything to interfere with any ambitions Governor Rockefeller might have. "I am devoted to him as an individual and indebted to him as leader in a hard-fought campaign," he said.

Rockefeller and Keating were both elected to their present posts in 1958.

Morhouse said last Sunday that Rockefeller should not be ruled out of consideration for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller announced his withdrawal from the presidential sweepstakes last December but speculation has persisted that he will battle Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP nomination.

Pressure has also been exerted for Rockefeller to accept the vice presidential nomination but he has rejected any such idea.

Onetime Countess Charged as Head Of Vice Service

NEW YORK (AP)—A onetime countess, described by the FBI as "the leading madam in New York City," was under indictment today accused of running a $100,000-a-year prostitution answering service on an international basis.

The government charged Tuesday that the woman, Elizabeth Spedding, 45, sent call girls as far away as Venezuela, drawing from a pool of 20 to 30 showgirls, models and actresses.

She allegedly grossed up to $2,500 a week as her share of the $50 and $100 a night the girls charged.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman said Miss Spedding, a tall blonde, once was married to a legitimate Romanian count, Louis Maresca, but the marriage was annulled in Mexico some time ago. She still uses the countess title on calling cards to interest men in her party girls, he said.

Kaufman said her activities took her to the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Cuba, France, the Virgin Islands, England and Italy during the past 16 years.

Besides supplying customers in New York, he said, she dispatched girls to Miami Beach, Atlantic City, Caracas, Havana and Mexico City.

Miss Spedding tearfully told Judge John F. X. McGohey that despite the estimate of her earnings she can't afford a lawyer. He held her in $25,000 bail and arranged for a court-appointed attorney.

Kaufman said she has a record of a previous prostitution conviction.

Maximum penalty upon conviction on all counts of the seven-count indictment is 35 years in prison and $35,000 in fines.

Two Women Are Sent to Jail in Raid at Hudson

Arrested on charges arising from a raid by state troopers and Hudson city police last Saturday night, three women appeared before City Judge Robert F. Meyers, and two were sentenced to terms in Columbia County jail.

Miss Esther Curtis, 53, of 322 Columbia Street, where the raid took place, was fined $400 and sentenced to 60 days in jail. She previously pleaded guilty to keeping a disorderly house. Miss Agnes Aronica, 38, same address, who pleaded guilty early Sunday to a vagrancy charge, was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Mrs. Maxine Pectral, 31-year-old mother of two children, who resides at 333 State Street, received a 60-day suspended jail sentence and was placed on probation for three years. She pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting.

The raid was ordered by District Attorney David A. Hendler, after an eight-week investigation by troopers and Hudson police in charge of Chief John Sullivan. Police said an undercover trooper obtained the evidence, and authorities said marked money was found in possession of Miss Curtis.

Edward Arlington Robinson won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1922, 1925 and 1928.

Networks to Give Free Time to Major Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CBS and NBC television networks say they'll give at least an hour a week of airtime to major presidential candidates this fall. They're dead set against a proposed law that would make free time mandatory.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS, and David S. Adams, senior executive vice president of NBC, outlined their free time offers Tuesday before the Senate Commerce Committee.

Backing their stand against a mandatory law were Vice President Richard M. Nixon, almost certain to be the Republican presidential candidate this year; former President Herbert Hoover and Thomas E. Dewey, twice the GOP presidential candidate. The three sent statements to the committee.

Democratic spokesmen at the hearing generally were on the other side of the fence.

Two-time party standard bearer Adlai E. Stevenson on Monday urged passage of a mandatory free time law.

Former Democratic Chairman William Boyle said Tuesday he could not overemphasize "the overwhelming burden which expenditures for television place upon a party organization." He said he thought it was asking very little of the networks to contribute prime evening time for political broadcasts.

Stanton and Adams said they preferred face to face debates between the candidates, rather than straight political speeches.

Orders Qualified Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — The town hospital of Seneca Falls was under orders today to get a qualified medical staff by June 15 or face closure.

The State Board of Social Welfare issued the warning Tuesday in directing the hospital not to admit any more new patients.

A board spokesman said a recently built hospital at Waterloo, three miles away, has attracted doctors from the Seneca Falls hospital and the institution no longer has an organized medical staff.

Gives Hubby Ticket

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Ray Anderson, a television news photographer, overstayed a parking meter and got a ticket.

Appended to the ticket was a note: "We cannot afford this—Nadine."

Mrs. Ray Anderson is a city meter maid. She checks parking meters and gives tickets to violators.

QUESTION: If a neighbor of mine damages a corner of my house with his car and offers to pay, should I accept payment or should I turn the matter over to my insurance agent?
ANSWER: Your own Extended Coverage insurance would cover this damage and your neighbor's property damage coverage would apply. You'd best turn the matter over to your insurance agents and let them arrange proper settlement.
* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
